SERC would like to credit and thank the Office of the Governor, the Connecticut General Assembly, and the Education Committee, especially the following legislators for their leadership:

Senator Douglas McCrory of the 2nd District, Education Committee Co-Chair
Representative Bobby Sanchez of the 25th District, Education Committee Co-Chair
Representative Bobby Gibson of the 15th District

SERC would also like to acknowledge the Connecticut State Board of Education and our collaborating partners at the Connecticut State Department of Education for their support:

Dr. Miguel A. Cardona, Former Commissioner of Education, Current U.S. Secretary of Education
Charlene M. Russell-Tucker, Acting Commissioner of Education
Desi D. Nesmith, Deputy Commissioner of Education for Academics and Innovation
Irene E. Parisi, Chief Academic Officer
Dr. Gladys Labas, Director of Equity and Language, Project Manager
Dr. Melissa K. Wlodarczyk Hickey, Director of Reading and Literacy
Stephen Armstrong, Social Studies Consultant, K-12

SERC recognizes the SERC Board of Directors and all members of the SERC Staff for their commitment and continued advocacy, including the following members who lead this endeavor:

Ingrid M. Canady, Executive Director
Nitza M. Diaz, Consultant
Wanda Guzman, Project Specialist
Paquita Jarman-Smith, Consultant
Michelle LeBrun-Griffin, Consultant

Without the voice and agency of students, families, educators, advocates, and historians, this curriculum would not be possible.

SERC would like to distinguish the concerted effort of the Advisory Group and Expert Review Panel (see Appendix for full membership lists) who volunteered their time, expertise, and knowledge to ensure the historical accuracy, comprehensive alignment, and transformative nature of this course of studies.
“What we need is not a history of selected races or nations, but the history of the world void of national bias, race hate, and religious prejudice.” — Carter G. Woodson

As Connecticut embarks on its first model statewide African American/Black and Puerto Rican/Latino Course of Studies, we acknowledge the commitment, passion, dedication, and unwavering hard work that went into making this a possibility. Thank you to the students, legislators, historians, community members, teachers, and social justice activists who shared in bringing CT PA 19-12 to fruition as well as contributed to the development of the curriculum.

This course represents American history that is inclusive, rather than absent of Black and Latino history. Certainly our forefathers, including the great Carter G. Woodson and Pedro Albizu Campos, are joyfully exclaiming about this opportunity to lead future generations through this integral learning experience for all students.

In this one-year, integrated course, the history of Africa and the Diasporas are explored with intentional linkages to the accomplishments, struggles, and beauty of Black and Latino people in the U.S., Americas (North and South), the Caribbean, and around the world. Through the lens of these very unique histories, students, with the guided support of their educators, will have opportunities to make connections to their own cultural and racial backgrounds and strengthen their understanding of what positive identity can look and sound like, the importance of inclusivity of diverse perspectives, and value for social justice to inform actions in their own community.

As a new chapter of historical learning is set forward, Connecticut high school students of all races, ethnicities, and identities will be welcomed by educators ready to discover, explore, and experience how these histories have contributed to the U.S. and global citizenry. The units within this course will assist teachers to tell the stories that have often been omitted and personify the realities of determination, struggle, liberation, joy, and hope. Using the tools and resources in this curriculum, knowledgeable, talented, innovative, and dedicated teachers will guide students in this new area of learning. We look to them to inspire within each student a desire to reimagine the present and future, based on lessons learned from the past—and provide opportunities for students to grow and develop their own ideas to ensure we continue to strive for justice, equity, and unity of all people.

In high regard for where this course can lead us,

Ingrid M. Canady
Executive Director, SERC
In June 2019, CT PA 19-12 was passed to develop an African American/Black and Puerto Rican/Latino Course of Studies at the high school level. Legislation identified the State Education Resource Center (SERC) as the coordinating entity to develop the curriculum as the first, integrated and model statewide curriculum of its kind. In collaboration with partners from the CT State Department of Education (CSDE), work swiftly began with the design of a comprehensive work plan and website, and the convening of a 150-member Advisory Group (see Appendix for full listing) representative of educators, students and advocates, historians, scholars, and community members by November 2019.

The Advisory Group organized into nine committees to complete various tasks as outlined below, and met as a full group intermittently through November 2020 to provide feedback and monitor progress.

1. Research and Evaluation Committee – This committee conducted an online curriculum survey of Connecticut high school educators and found 217/350 respondents were teachers representing a variety of districts and school sizes. A total of 62% of the respondents indicated readiness to teach the course and requested that comprehensive curriculum and professional learning be provided. Curriculum artifacts were warehoused from 17 districts and eight states with an African American or a Latino Studies course currently in place, and used to inform curriculum development.

2. Focus Group Committee – An online survey was also conducted by this committee, with the same questions asked as in-person or virtual focus groups were held. Approximately 1/3 of survey responses were from students expressing their desire for the course to provide: a deeper study of inequalities and understanding of racism as a social construct, a better understanding of varied backgrounds and cultures of intra-racial communities, teaching of “real” history beyond stereotypes, state and local contexts, an emphasis on difference as a strength and not a weakness, and learning activities related to pop culture. A total of 12 focus groups were held, five exclusively for high school students illuminating the following priorities: teacher knowledge of history, safe and brave class climate, culturally relevant and responsive pedagogy practiced to center student voice and interests, focus on supporting students’ racial identity development, importance of the portrayal of positive accomplishments and multiple perspectives, consideration of operational challenges for various school settings, and the need for comprehensive professional learning.

3. Course Syllabus Committee – The important work of this committee was to outline the overarching learning objectives and essential questions to serve as a framework for the course. As an integrated curriculum, legislators aided in the decision for a semester-by-semester focus with spiraling concepts across semesters to assist teachers in engaging students’ in-depth knowledge building and self-discovery.

4. Infrastructure Support Committee – This committee focused on guidance for successful implementation of this elective, full-year course and supported the development of information provided to districts and agencies in the Fall/Winter of 2020. Focus areas included:
   - the importance of strategic planning to create K-12 pathways for learning aligned with a portrait of/ vision for a graduate and family/community partnerships;
   - considering readiness for 2021-2022 or 2022-2023 implementation and planning for a number of sections, and staffing needed accordingly;
   - as a History course, being taught by a certified high school social studies teacher; however, collaborative teaching arrangements with World Language, English, and Arts teachers is strongly encouraged;
   - class composition to ensure diversity of perspectives and seeking opportunities for inter-district collaborations when this is not feasible;
   - recognition of joint responsibility of the entire school, district, and community for success of the course.
African American/Black and Puerto Rican/Latino Content Development Committees – These committees were the heart of curriculum development efforts and involved educators and scholars responsible for not only the robust content development, but also the plethora of resources and learning activities provided to support teachers with the accuracy and integrity of delivery across schools and districts statewide.

The 11 units of study have been aligned with the CT Social Studies Frameworks, CT Common Core Standards for English Language Arts, CT English Language Proficiency Standards, and Universal Design for Learning principles. An expanded, yet familiar, Understanding By Design template was used with special features such as home links, extensions/expierential opportunities, and options for interdisciplinary connections, as well as synchronous and asynchronous learning options.

Professional Learning Committee – Given a model statewide curriculum, professional development is a key attribute to the success of the course. This committee outlined a comprehensive professional learning plan for initial implementers (approximately 50 schools) during the 2021-2022 school year and for remaining schools in 2022-2023. The plan includes a week-long summer institute and two-day quarterly trainings, as well as virtual coaching and networking opportunities for educators and administrators.

Publications and Dissemination Committee – In order to support the ongoing development and evolution of the curriculum, it was necessary for this committee to not only determine how the curriculum document would be shared, but how updated materials and resources would be readily accessible. It is anticipated that the CSDE will have an electronic platform for warehousing the curriculum that will include a lesson repository and a process for review and feedback.

Integration and Assessment Committee – This committee was responsible for the review of the curriculum in its entirety for alignment of standards, content, and assessments as well as coherence across units and semesters. The work of this committee led to refinement of lessons to ensure they are implementation-ready.

In August 2020, an Expert Review Panel (see Appendix for full listing) of national and state-level experts and researchers was convened to review course deliverables as they were being developed, and provide critical feedback and relevant resources. Panel members endorsed:

- the volume of rich content for the single course and a desire to be explicit and accurate with new learning,
- the importance of continuity and congruence of content across semesters, including cross-cultural influences,
- value for focus on inventors and innovators, including women, who brought optimism despite struggles,
- appreciation for materials, investigative learning activities, and teacher resources to maximize relevance and engagement,
- strength of oral history assignments in examining intersectionality of identity and understanding its fluidity, and
- the need for teacher prep to ensure diversity of thought, bi-directional learning (student:teacher, home:school), and unity in community.

The State Board of Education approved the curriculum in December 2020, and the SERC and CSDE Team worked steadily to make final revisions through June 2021.

Anticipated next steps in preparation for statewide implementation in 2022-2023 include: a field study to garner additional feedback from teachers and students, opportunities to engage families and communities in new learning, and the development of a Speakers Bureau to bring African American/Black and Puerto Rican/Latino lived experiences to the classroom.
COURSE OVERVIEW

The African American/Black and Puerto Rican/Latino Course of Studies is a one credit, year-long elective in which students will consider the scope of African American/Black and Puerto Rican/Latino contributions to U.S. history, society, economy, and culture. It utilizes Connecticut’s Social Studies Framework themes and inquiry-based approach already familiar to social studies teachers to deliver a content rich and personalized learning experience.

The course is an opportunity for students to explore accomplishments, struggles, intersections, perspectives, and collaborations of African American/Black and Puerto Rican/Latino people in the U.S. Students will examine how historical movements, legislation, and wars affected the citizenship rights of these groups and how they, both separately and together, worked to build U.S. cultural and economic wealth and create more just societies in local, national, and international contexts.

Coursework will provide students with tools to identify historic and contemporary tensions around race and difference; map economic and racial disparities over time; strengthen their own identity development; and address bias in their communities. This course will contribute to the critical consciousness and civic-mindedness competencies of a twenty-first century graduate, and ultimately facilitate students’ interest in pursuing further ethnic, anthropology, or human rights studies in the future.

Summary of Unit

Introduction of the basis of course, overview of scope and sequence of content, and orientation of students to expected dialogue and community for learning will be the opening for this unit.

The content of this unit will focus on African Origins of humanity and contributions made by peoples of our greatest civilizations on the continent such as Kemet, Ghana, Songhai. The legacy of African Empires Kings and Queens will provide students information that will accurately paint a picture of the vast contributions to world civilizations.

It is through the history of African Origins and the exploration of African Civilizations and religions that we engage students in knowledge construction about the majestic breadth of great people in government, academic and technological innovation, and the arts, from whom African Americans and peoples from the Diaspora descended. This exploration will allow students to evaluate and analyze false narratives of inferiority and inhumanity of Africans and Black people which are deeply ingrained in modern society worldwide. As students begin the semester on African American history, they will have opportunities to embark on an exploration of a people who were made captives and brought to distant shores—and their long history of affirmation, resistance, reform, and radicalism.

In this unit, students will:
- Examine the impact of various aspects of African culture on world civilizations;
- Analyze the factors that have contributed to racialized global conflict and change in the modern world; and
- Develop a positive and accurate identity, including an awareness of and comfort with one’s membership in multiple groups in society.

Compelling Questions: What impact did the people of Ancient Africa have on early and modern civilizations, and why has this impact been largely ignored through much of history? How has the concept of race been socially constructed over time?

Introduction of course projects: Throughout the lessons in the course, students will have opportunities to build their own portfolio of artifacts to demonstrate new learning. Responses, poems, video reflections, visual displays, infographics, and other forms of expression created by students should reflect the course objectives and essential questions.
With EQ6 in mind, students will participate in developing a class project entitled Radical Imagination Through the Arts, in which students create a representation of learning depicting their own ideas about reimagining new possibilities and justice, based on African American/Black and Puerto Rican/Latino history.

- Teachers and students will co-create criteria for the project starting in Semester 1.
- Engage in reflection and collaborative planning with other departments of the school: history, teachers, art, media, music, English Language Arts and others in the school or community.
- Students add artifacts to their portfolios throughout the school year which may include a social justice action, idea or plan; artistic representation; or other inspired by the student’s creative process.
- Class will organize and curate the project pieces for the project.
- Culminate the year with a showcase Semester 2 for the school community.

Optional Be the Change Project (see Semester 1 Unit 5 and 6 and 2 Unit 5): This project requires consistent dedicated class time. See link for resources and materials for implementing Be the Change... | Learning for Justice

From Social Justice Standards from “Learning For Justice”

Identity
1. Students will develop positive social identities based on their membership in multiple groups in society.

From Teaching Hard History A 6–12 FRAMEWORK FOR TEACHING AMERICAN SLAVERY

Key Concept 1: Slavery, which Europeans practiced before they invaded the Americas, was important to all colonial powers and existed in all North American colonies

SUMMARY OBJECTIVE 1: Students will recognize that slavery existed around the world prior to the European invasion of North America, changing forms depending on time and place. The enslaved often were perceived as outsiders: captives in war, the vanquished or colonized, or ethnic or religious others.

1.C In many African societies, people became enslaved when they were captured during war. The status of enslaved people changed as they learned the customs and integrated into their captors’ community. Slavery was not always intergenerational; the children of enslaved parents were not necessarily enslaved.

Key Concept 2: Slavery and the slave trade were central to the development and growth of the colonial economies and what is now the United States.

SUMMARY OBJECTIVE 2: Students will describe the nature and extent of colonial enslavement of Indigenous people.

2.A Throughout the Americas, Europeans enslaved between 2.5 million and 5 million Indigenous people. In much of what is now North America, Indigenous people were bought and sold until the late 19th century.

Big Ideas/Topics to be Addressed, including Key Concepts and Terms
- Safe Spaces for learning
- Race and racism are words that have been socially constructed
- Anti-racism
- Social Justice
- Identity
- Diaspora (Who is African American and who is Black? Who is Puerto Rican and who is Latino? Who is Afro-Latino?)

Vocabulary: Culture, Identity, Ethnicity, Social Justice, safe space

Materials/Resources/Speakers
- Schomburg Center for Research in Black Culture
- New York Public Library: Digital Schomburg
- Lesson: Preparing Students for Difficult Conversations | Facing History
- Davidson, Basi “Africa in History”
- Social Identity Profile

Recommended Learning Activities, including UDL Principles/Scaffolded Supports and Asynchronous and Synchronous Learning Opportunities

Course Pre-Assessment Students will complete pre-assessment on comfort level in talking about race and participating in challenging and difficult conversations, comfort level in learning about other cultures, what they know about Africa and Puerto Rico, what to learn for the semester, will do post assessment at the end of each semester.

Home Links/Reflections to Affirm Identity
Check in with family members on how this course environment is a safe space for having thoughtful and challenging conversations. Ask for family input on what students should also consider.
Day 1 Course Intro

Initiation: Introductions of students and teacher(s). Discuss who we are? Provide Social Identity Wheels for students to complete and in pairs/triads and share questions 1 and 3 as an icebreaker (10 minutes). Resource: Personal Identity Wheel – Inclusive Teaching (Teacher will download both identity wheels on page 2 of handout.)

Activity: Creating a safe space for learning. Ask students what makes them feel safe and list. Prompt for Turn and Talk: What makes you feel safe when engaging interracial discussions on difficult/challenging topics? Post list of responses.

Explore/View/Discuss What Does Safe Space Mean to You? https://projects.seattletimes.com/2016/under-our-skin/#safe_space (5 minutes)

- Debrief the video and agree on discussion, dialogue norms, making the classroom a community for respectful, thoughtful interactions where all students learn and grow, take risks. Post the list of Norms.
- Provide an overview of the course - Semester 1 and 2 and the goals and essential questions. Ask students to complete the personal identity wheel for homework and bring to the next class.
- Hand out a journal for each student to use for personal reflection throughout the school year.

Closing: Provide time for students to reflect in journals on what they look forward to learning this semester.

Day 2 Group Discussion

Continue discussion about who we are and the intersections of identity: gender, race, ability, language, age, etc.
Set up a Padlet and have students take out their personal identity wheel and post one aspect of their identity that makes them proud and an emoji or avatar they will use for the year. Have students look at the posts, notice any patterns and commonalities.

Closing: Invite students to be historians this semester as they engage in critical inquiry as a community of learners. Share the syllabus with the students and describe the opportunities they will have to engage in learning about the histories of African Americans/Blacks and Puerto Rican/Latinos. Introduce course projects they will engage in over the course of the year.

Recommended Learning Activities, including UDL Principles/Scaffolded Supports and Asynchronous and Synchronous Learning Opportunities

Day 1

Initiation: Ask students to describe Africa in 3 words, make a wordle online, have students look at the themes and connect to the Unit of study. Introduce key vocabulary from Famed Lucy Article: hominids, bipedal primates, potassium argon dating, radiometric dating.

Activity: Students to read Famed “Lucy” Fossils Discovered in Ethiopia, 40 Years Ago Lucy’s Story | Institute of Human Origins. Discuss the perspective and perhaps motives of the writer through their choice of title, images, words and phrases. Discuss the implications of the discovery on a social-political level. Provide graphic organizers for note-taking.

In small groups, students will begin planning a presentation of how humanity began using evidence of primary and secondary sources. They will watch a video: Mitochondrial Eve and Homo Sapiens in Africa’s Great Rift Valley and discuss where other earlier human fossil remains were found.

Using the Smithsonian National Museum of Natural History website https://humanorigins.si.edu/ as an additional resource, groups can choose a more focused topic as part of research for presentations.

Closing: Groups should be advised they will have 15 minutes at the opening of next class to prepare 5 minute claim/counterclaim presentations.

Day 2

Home Links/Reflections to Affirm Identity

Discuss your findings about African origins with a family member. What is their viewpoint? How is this the same/different than your families’ cultural and/or religious beliefs?
Evidence of Learning: Provide students with 15 minutes at the beginning of class to finalize presentations. In small groups, students will have 5 minutes to present their claim/counterclaim of how humanity began using evidence (e.g., maps, primary and secondary sources).

Closing: This unit concludes with an End-of Unit Performance Task in which students collectively draw from their research to create and present a representation addressing the compelling question of the impact of the people of Ancient Africa on the development of humanity and civilization (e.g., presentation, descriptive PowerPoint, visual depiction such as poster or concept map or matrix, etc.). Provide overview of task. (Hyperlink for rubric to be added.) Organizational tools will be provided by the teacher throughout remaining lessons to contribute to development of research for the project.

Day 2

Initiation: Introduce characteristics of Ancient Egypt by viewing video https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=hO1tzmi1V5g

Activity: Lead students in a virtual scavenger hunt of Ancient Egypt. Use virtual art exhibits or online resources to look for the following: two or more women who were Pharaohs, likeness of Nefertiti in sculpture form at a notable museum, at least 10 items about Egypt that intersect with identity, age, gender, social status, religion, etc., and notable inventions or discoveries, including engineering.
Closing/Evidence of Learning:

Have students Turn and Talk for 3 minutes and discuss and compare ancient Egypt to one of the civilizations learned about in Day 1. How did the development of early African civilizations impact the establishment of the empires of Ghana, Mali, Songhai, and Egypt? On exit ticket, list examples of wealth described in the civilizations from research, and characteristics of leadership in individuals’ studies you found similar to yourself, including the role of women in governing empires.

Prompt for Turn and Talk: Where did the concept of race come from?

Fist to 5 - What is your comfort level in talking about race? (1 very uncomfortable to 5 very comfortable). Have students note where they are individually and collectively, and identify what “norms” they need for themselves and as a class.

Activity: Students will discuss the social construct of race and why understanding race is important for building our understanding of the history of slavery in America and globally.

Explore/Read/Discuss National Geographic Article: There’s No Scientific Basis for Race—it’s a Made-Up Label, share out in groups key understandings.

Closing/Evidence of Learning: Quick Write/Drawing - How does race impact your life? Early American culture?

Day 2

Initiation: Ask students to predict their genetic makeup if they were able to conduct a DNA test. Noting, some family members may have already done this and students may have this information verified already.

Activity: Explore/View/Discuss PBS Documentary Race – the Power of Illusion: Episode 1 The Difference Between Us (must be purchased). Teachers should be flexible and stop for reflection and discussion throughout the video.

Closing: Anthropologist Alan Goodman says that “to understand why the idea of race is a biological myth requires a major paradigm shift.” Do you agree? Did the film present anything that shifted your thinking in a major way? If so, what? Is it difficult to make this shift? Why? (Ask students to document in a journal.)

Day 3

Initiation: Using the map of Turtle Island, ask students how it got its name. Ask if they know how Turtle Island is represented in history, and what connections do they have with the construction of race and to the typical histories that are taught in the United States?

Activity: Using Tribal Nations Maps on computers in small groups, students will formulate questions they have about origins of the Americas from the perspective of Indigenous/Native Americans. Then they will listen to the podcast The Map Of Native American Tribes You've Never Seen Before to answer questions raised.

Closing: Full group discussion of what was learned- questions raised regarding Turtle Island and Indigenous/Native Americans.

Day 4

Initiation: Review of norms and safe space for sensitive discussions. Introduce key vocabulary: Forced Migration, Spanish Florida, emancipation, monolithic, atrocity, propaganda.

Activity: Discuss Forced Migration Map found in Caribbean Excavation Article. Provide students a note-taking graphic organizer and in small groups read and discuss Caribbean excavation offers intimate look at the lives of enslaved Africans.

Activity: Explore/Read/Discuss The Smithsonian’s article Digital Archive of Slave Voyages (embedded extended inquiry links in materials). Students will need Cornell Note-taking organizer (scaffold as needed) and computer. In small groups, engage students in unpacking what they know and have discovered about survival and resistance of African in this article.

Closing/Evidence of Learning: Students individually write a short response to answer questions pertaining to the impact of Africans on the Caribbean islands.

Day 5

Performance Task Presentations: This unit concludes with an End-of Unit Performance Task in which students collectively draw from their research to create and present a representation addressing the compelling question of the impact the people of Ancient Africa have on the development of humanity and civilization. Remind students of Compelling Questions they are striving to answer: What impact did the people of Ancient Africa have on humanity and civilization? How was race socially constructed over time?

Unit 2

FOCUS ON AFRICAN AMERICAN/BLACK HISTORY

How African Americans Persisted: Slavery and Freedom Stories of Resistance and Agency (1619 to 1819)
Soon after the settlement of New England, slavery, first Indigenous and then African, became a way to support the export driven economy of the region. This unit will focus on slavery in Connecticut, the U.S., sources of that history, and how we can use analytical lenses to interpret the evidence and tell the story of local slavery and the individuals held in captivity. Themes of resistance and agency will be explored.

In this unit students will:
- Analyze how Africans, African Americans, and their descendants have struggled to gain freedom, equality, and social justice.
- Explore the ways in which slavery was embedded in culture and legislation.
- Investigate how multiple racial and cultural perspectives influence the interpretation of slavery.

Compelling Question: How were some Africans from the global diaspora able to assert their agency to resist slavery; why were other Africans unable to do this?

Desired Results
From Connecticut Elementary and Secondary Social Studies Framework

Dimension 2 Applying disciplinary concepts and tools

HIST 9–12.1 Evaluate how historical events and developments were shaped by unique circumstances of time and place as well as broader historical contexts.

HIST 9–12.7 Analyze how current interpretations of the past are limited by the extent to which available historical sources represent perspectives of people at the time.

GEO 9–12.5 Analyze the reciprocal nature of how historical events and the spatial diffusion of ideas, technologies, and cultural practices have influenced migration patterns and the distribution of human population.

CIV 9–12.14 Analyze historical, contemporary, and emerging means of changing societies, promoting the common good, and protecting rights.

From Social Justice Standards from “Learning for Justice”

Identity

4. Students will express pride, confidence and healthy self-esteem without denying the value and dignity of other people.

From Teaching Hard History A 6–12 FRAMEWORK FOR TEACHING AMERICAN SLAVERY

Key Concept 2: Slavery and the slave trade were central to the development and growth of the colonial economies and what is now the United States.
SUMMARY OBJECTIVE 2: Students will describe the nature and extent of colonial enslavement of Indigenous people.

2.B Western Hemispheric destinations of captive Africans included South America, the Caribbean and North America.

Key Concept 3. Protections for slavery were embedded in the founding documents; enslavers dominated the federal government, Supreme Court and Senate from 1787 through 1860.

SUMMARY OBJECTIVE 5- Students will describe the roles that slavery, Native nations and African Americans played in the Revolutionary War.

5.B Free and enslaved people used the language of the Revolution to argue for their own rights. African American and Indigenous participation in the war was largely in pursuit of freedom rather than loyalty to a particular side.
Learning Outcomes

Overarching Learning Objectives

LO2 INVESTIGATE the evolution and development of African American and Latino identities, including intersections with Indigenous and other identities.

LO3 ANALYZE how race, power, and privilege influence group access to citizenship, civil rights, and economic power.

LO4 EXAMINE the scope and legacy of resistance that has been integral to African American, Puerto Rican and Latino histories.

LO5 ARTICULATE the integral role African American, Puerto Rican and Latino communities have played in shaping U.S. society, economy, and culture.

LO6 REIMAGINE new possibilities and more just futures for our country and our world drawn from the legacy of African American, Latino, and Indigenous experiences, intellectual thought, and culture.

Critical Consciousness

Overarching Essential Questions

EQ2 DIASPORAS Who and what are the diverse people, places, and time periods that African American and Latino include? What are the stories of the African, Puerto Rican and Latino diasporas?

EQ4 FREEDOM, JUSTICE, RESISTANCE How have African American, Puerto Rican and Latino people fought for freedom and justice throughout history and today, and in what ways have their struggles been in solidarity with various other groups?

EQ7 SPACE AND PLACE In what ways have geographies shaped history, as well as been shaped by it? What are the African American, Puerto Rican and Latino histories of our region, and how do they relate to broader histories?

Theme/Content-Specific Enduring Understandings

For this Unit of Study, students will know and be able to...

Knowledge:

- Evaluate the scope of African American slavery in Connecticut and in the U.S.
- Analyze the laws and statutes that established, upheld, and abolished slavery
- Analyze how the institution of slavery was fundamental to the beliefs of American Society about race
- Evaluate ways that Black people demonstrated agency, resistance, and innovation over time

Skills:

- Cite specific evidence and laws to illustrate the beginnings of slavery in Connecticut, the Caribbean and the Americas, its growth during the pre-revolutionary period, and the gradual abolition of slavery during the post-revolutionary period
- Analyze and use primary sources, such as CT-based “slave narratives,” census data, probate records, property records, and other manuscripts to

Theme/Content-Specific Inquiry

For this Unit of Study, to support self-discovery, identity development, and civic preparedness/actions, students will explore...

- How did the institution of slavery develop in the Americans (and specifically in Connecticut) and what was its impact on American society?
- How did some African Americans demonstrate their agency and resistance to slavery during this time period?
retell the life of enslaved individuals in CT and their collective impact in the USA

Recommended Learning Activities, including UDL Principles/Scaffolded Supports and Asynchronous and Synchronous Learning Opportunities

In days 1 and 2, students will determine which perspectives shaped the known and unknown narrative of slavery in CT using autobiographies and biographies written by those formerly enslaved to validate or counter statements made by Eurocentric chroniclers or historians of Northern or Connecticut Slavery such as:

- “The slaves were generally kindly treated and were docile…” (Steiner, Bernard C, “History of Slavery in Connecticut,” 1893)
- “There were about a dozen slaves in North Guilford, CT, but slavery was very lenient.” (Quote by Lyman Beecher, father of Harriet Beecher Stowe, in his autobiography, 1864)

Day 1 and 2 Themes of Slavery

Initiation: Remind students of norms for learning difficult topics and discuss check-ins for student’s to talk with the teacher should they need support.

Activity: In small groups, using the Five Themes of Slavery© Jigsaw Activity (1).docx.pdf and Moses, King of the Slaves students will evaluate primary documents provided through the project sheet and create a biographical sketch/fact sheet of Moses’ life in the Colonial and Early American period in Connecticut.

1. Dehumanization
2. Treatment of Enslaved
3. Paternalism
4. Economics
5. Agency and Resistance

Using these same five themes, students can evaluate the stories of:

- Venture Smith
- James Mars, and
- Gad Asher (written by grandson Rev. Jeremiah Asher pgs. 15 to 21) to better understand their lives as free and enslaved.

Students can also choose to research how slavery is depicted in film and/or media over time.

Evidence of Learning: Students will share evaluations and understandings of individuals who they researched using the Five Themes.

Closing: Discuss, what is the importance of using the Five Themes of Slavery© as a way of understanding those who were locally enslaved?

Home Links/Reflections to Affirm Identity

Discuss with a family member what you learned about African Americans and your ideas for learning about other experiences of people who were free or enslaved during this time. How has your thinking changed?

How does your analysis of the lives of the enslaved, especially looking at both the dehumanization as well as the agency and resistance, reflect the issues that our country is dealing with today?

Recommended Learning Activities, including UDL Principles/Scaffolded Supports and Asynchronous and Synchronous Learning Opportunities

Day 1.5: Haitian Revolution and Independence

- After reading the article, students will organize into small groups to explore the Haitian Revolution using primary and secondary resources in order to participate in group discussion regarding
  - How did the Haitian Revolution create a global desire for change and justice?

Activity: Provide students small group time to create a historical account of the Haitian Revolution and the role Toussaint Louverture and people of Haiti played in their independence using the following guiding questions: Why was the revolution that took place in Haiti successful? What was the role of Haiti in perpetuating, resisting and abolishing slavery? Note: Students can continue this activity as a group assignment using the following guiding questions

- Toussaint Louverture and his role in global empowerment of Blacks
- Read accounts from several sources of the impact of the Haitain Revolution.

Day 2 (2nd half) Fort Mose - Resistance and Agency

Initiation: Students apply their knowledge of resistance and agency as they explore/view/discuss video of Francisco Menendez https://bit.ly/2OTcT1X (4.17 minutes). Key points from video:

- Who was Francisco Menendez?
- When he first escaped to La Florida, how and why did Menendez connect with the Yamasee people?

Home Links/Reflections to Affirm Identity

Independent research depicting the “places” where Africans were taken in the Americas and what these artifacts say about the culture and identity of these people.

Explore other individuals who showed agency and resistance in your local town/city history. What can you learn from their story?
- What made Fort Mose (pronounced “Moh-say”) unique for its time? Use evidence from the video to support your answer.

Activity: Read/explore The Fort Mose Story – Fort Mose Historical Society

In pairs, students explore the Fort Mose website and maps. They will participate in a Chalk Talk protocol in which the pairs of students respond in writing on large pieces of chart paper to questions like the ones below:

- What impact does Fort Mose have on the history of the United States?
- What assumptions can you make about Francisco Menendez’s character?
- Why do you think the history of Fort Mose and Francisco Menendez have been absent from most school history textbooks? What is the counter-narrative of this history?

After all students have contributed to the posters, conduct a whole-class share-out. What did you learn? What themes did you see on the Chalk Talk charts (did your classmates think alike/different)?

Closing: Have students identify examples of agency used by Francisco Menendez, Toussaint Louverture, and other people who experienced forced migration, as part of the beginning movement for freedom, justice, and change. Keep an anchor chart in room for reference in subsequent lesson(s).

Evidence of Learning: Students will provide a short essay response to the following question: Using the Five Themes of Slavery©, What was the impact of the Haitian revolution and Fort Mose and in the Americas, especially among blacks?

Recommended Learning Activities, including UDL Principles/Scaffolded Supports and Asynchronous and Synchronous Learning Opportunities

Day 1: Connecticut Experiences

Initiation: Provide an interactive overview of slavery as an institution in Connecticut. Listen to podcast: On Juneteenth, Remembering Connecticut’s Complicity In Slavery and ask students to share their reactions.

Activity: Read about Nero Hawley and the fight for American Freedom Nero Hawley - Society of the Hawley Family; A Connecticut Slave in George Washington's Army.

Compare Nero Hawley's experiences with slavery and how he personified examples of agency previously utilized by others; demonstrating even though experiences may differ, agency is similar.

Closing/Evidence of Learning: Students will complete an exit ticket summarizing three new facts they learned about Nero Hawley as they related to Themes of Slavery and/or migration.

Day 2: Connecticut Laws

Activity: In small groups by year, explore laws provided. List salient features of each part of law reviewed. Primary documents can be found here:

- CT Slavery Statutes
- Slavery in Connecticut, Slavery and Abolition | Connecticut History | a CTHumanities Project
- Gradual Emancipation

Day 3 and 4: Connecticut Census

Activity: In small groups, review the sample Census Enumerations (primary sources): Colonial Censuses - Colonial Records & Topics - LibGuides at Connecticut State Library, Division of, Census Summary 1774, Census Summary 1780-1820 Slave, Free Black, and White Population, 1780-1830

- Discuss what other laws based on race in the U.S. affected demographics.
- Create a narrative explaining how changes in laws affected changes in the population of the enslaved.
- Discuss how the census data do or do not reflect the changes in Connecticut laws over time.

Home Links/Reflections to Affirm Identity

Discuss with a family member what you learned about African Americans and your ideas for learning about other experiences of people who were free or enslaved during this time. How has your thinking changed?

Use the census to trace your family tree or create a timeline of your family's journey.
Closing/Evidence of Learning: Drawing from their research and evidence, students visually depict their explanation of the changes in societal structures during this era and the impact on life in Connecticut communities and share with full group.

End-of-Unit Performance Assessment/Evidence of Learning: Students write a narrative of a fictional interview of an African/African descendant (living in the time period explored) explaining how he/she asserted their agency and resistance to individually and/or collectively spark revolutionary change, preserve their own humanity, and resist slavery.

Summary of Unit

The journey to abolish slavery in the United States was a battle that progressed gradually over time. The unit explores: the individuals, groups, and schools of thought that contributed to the movement. The subsections of the unit will move through the topics of Black survival and resistance to enslavement and emancipation using the Gradualist, Militant, Early and Late Political Periods, and the Civil War. Students will also examine “Free” Black communities, Slave Narratives, Negro Spirituals, folklores, newspapers, pamphlets, and speeches that Blacks and abolitionists employed to precipitate change. Themes of resistance and agency will be examined.

In this unit, students will:
- Examine how Africans and African descendants worked individually and collectively to spark revolutionary change to their existence; and
- Explore various perspectives of enslavement from free and enslaved Africans.

Compelling Questions: When is resistance and/or revolution justified/glorified/condemned? How effective were the actions of abolitionists and the slave rebellions of this period? Are individual contributions or collective efforts more effective in actualizing social change?

From Teaching Hard History A 6–12 FRAMEWORK FOR TEACHING AMERICAN SLAVERY

Key Concept 5. Enslaved people resisted the efforts of their enslavers to reduce them to commodities in both revolutionary and everyday ways.

SUMMARY OBJECTIVE 11 Students will recognize that enslaved people resisted slavery in ways that ranged from violence to smaller, everyday means of asserting their humanity and opposing their enslavers.

11.F Everyday acts of resistance were common. These included working slowly, breaking tools, feigning illness, feigning ignorance to avoid work and running away for short periods.

Recommended Learning Activities, including UDL Principles/Scaffolded Supports and Asynchronous and Synchronous Learning Opportunities:

Information for Teachers [Slave Resistance, Freedom's Story, TeacherServe®, National Humanities Center]

- The most widespread expression of resistance toward slavery was the day-to-day “Silent Sabotage” and “Hidden Transcript” of resistance (e.g., slowing work, feigning illness, breaking tools, or sabotaging production).
- Another form of resistance included crimes committed by slaves (e.g., theft: produce, livestock, tobacco, liquor, and money from their masters).
- Most threatening to the stability of the slave system was running away as considered “Self-Stolen Property.”
- Even more threatening and violent, but extremely rare were mass slave revolts.

Day 1 Resistance

Initiation: Introduce students to unit themes and lessons. The subsections of the unit will move through the topics of Black survival and resistance to enslavement and emancipation using the Gradualist, Militant, Early and Late Political Periods, and the Civil War. Students will also examine the Black Church, “Free” Black communities, Slave Narratives, Negro Spirituals, folklores, newspapers, pamphlets and speeches that Blacks and abolitionists employed to precipitate change. As with all history, themes related to resistance, agency and the fight against slavery continues over time and will be reflected throughout semesters and units.

Activity: Interactive lecture/discussion regarding the major forms of slave resistance. [Slave Resistance | Gilder Lehrman Institute of American History](https://bit.ly/3qz7Fq8, 3 Major Ways Enslaved People Showed Resistance to a Life in Bondage (thoughtco.com).

Closing/Evidence of Learning: Students use an exit ticket to answer questions regarding their new learning regarding the four major forms of slave resistance. Do they feel resistance is justified or not justified?

Day 2 Denmark Vesey-Slave Revolt (Example of Revolution)

Initiation: Review concept of Revolution and students’ prior knowledge.

Home Links/Reflections to Affirm Identity

Reflect on a Negro Spiritual or individual of the time. How will this experience influence your thinking about race and identity?

Ask students to watch segments of Denmark Vesey’s Rebellion (1.5 hr.) as an at-home assignment in preparation of Denmark Vesey Role Play practice on day 3. [Watch Denmark Vesey's Rebellion (19 Full Movie Free Online Streaming]

NPR 3-minute audio: Denmark Vesey And The History Of Charleston's 'Mother Emanuel' Church Denmark Vesey And The History Of Charleston's 'Mother Emanuel' Church
Activity: Have students read about Denmark Vesey 1822 https://bit.ly/2ZCszJg (provide note-taking handout Teachinghistory.org). Engage in class discussion regarding:

- How would Walker’s words and actions be considered a threat to Southern slave owners?
- How did Walker challenge Jefferson's views?
- What was the overall attitude that Walker had while writing this essay? How could you tell?

Closing/Evidence of Learning: Students use an exit ticket to reflect on the impact of Denmark Vesey’s actions on slavery resistance and revolution.

Day 3 Role of Black Churches in Slave Resistance

Activity: Read and discuss The Story of the Shout - elegantislandliving.net and listen to Negro Spirituals Oh Glory [Oh, Glory (Negro Spiritual)] and others (student choice)

- Provide lyrics of the songs, What are the connections to the daily lives and culture of enslaved people of the time? Today? What messages are conveyed?
- In small groups, have students explore Explore Black Historical Churches throughout CT and the role they played in the abolishment of slavery. Students can be grouped by city or region to research primary resources.

Additional Activity: Provide a brief overview of the emergence of Black Churches in Connecticut. (This could be an opportunity to invite a Guest Speaker, Church Pastor/Historian, Higher Ed, or Community to participate virtually or in person.)

Day 4 The Role of Abolitionists in Slave Resistance

Initiation: Opening discussion - Who were the abolitionists? (Revisit Unit 2) How is the Haitian Revolution considered a landmark in the history of abolition?

Activity: Introduce the topic of Abolitionism. Why the UN Remembers Slave Trade and Abolition on This Day | Time

Have class jigsaw a variety of articles about abolitionists. Have each group responsible for reading and sharing their learning from one article or excerpt from the article. Here are a few examples:

- Analysis of excerpts of David Walker’s Appeal (1829) Africans in America/Part 4/David Walker’s Appeal
- White women in the fight for freedom and justice
- https://hsp.org/sites/default/files/philadelphiamaleanti-slaverysociety.pdf
Closing/Evidence of Learning: Quick write/pictorial reflecting the impacts of abolitionists on slavery resistance and revolution.

Day 5 The Role of Free Black Communities and the Black Press in Slave Resistance

Initiation: Engage students in a close read of Free Black Communities in Connecticut from pages 1-4 [1]

MODULE III: The Emergence of Free Black Communities in Connecticut, 1800-1830. Students take notes and highlight a phrase or sentence they found interesting. (Review and note-taking could be homework after Day 4.)

Activity: In small groups, have students read and discuss sample articles of resistance from Historical Black Newspapers of the time using the following primary sources:

- Freedom's Journal (1827-1829)
- The Colored American
- Have students present the role of the Black Press and evidence using an excerpt(s) from the chosen artifact.

Closing/Evidence of Learning: Students use exit ticket to reflect on the impact of free Black Communities, Black Churches, and individuals on slavery resistance and revolution.

Freedom's Unfinished Revolution: An Inquiry into the Civil War and Reconstruction
(American Social History Project)
Recommended Learning Activities, including UDL Principles/Scaffolded Supports and Asynchronous and Synchronous Learning Opportunities, modeling guided reading:

Guided Practice (as needed): Teacher models primary source analysis for students using: https://www.gilderlehrman.org/history-resources/spotlight-primary-source/john-quincy-adams-and-amistad-case-1841, other strategies:

- SOAPSTone: https://bit.ly/3ywB0Wc
- APPARTS: https://bit.ly/37nEv5q

In this lesson, students analyze how African descendants organized and fought for freedom from slavery using historical accounts of race riots from 1830-1840.

Day 1 Nat Turner Slave Rebellion: Justified or Unjustified?

Initiation: Students watch a 10 minute video and take notes to assist them in constructing a response to answer: Justified or Unjustified? https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=4Oad2tY-RPc&feature=emb_logo

Activity: Case study in pairs or small groups, where students discuss their initial thoughts on Nat Turner Slave Rebellion: Justified or Unjustified? then, explore primary sources. Students are encouraged to justify claim using strong evidence from sources below:

- Nat Turner's Rebellion, 1831 | Gilder Lehrman Institute of American History
- https://www.ncpedia.org/anchor/hysteria-wilmington
- https://www.ncpedia.org/anchor/nat-turners-rebellion

Closure/Evidence of Learning: Students share their claims and evidence using poetry, writing, sketch, or other medium.

Day 2 Amistad Rebellion

Initiation: Set the stage for activities by providing a brief synopsis of the Amistad voyage (e.g., The Amistad Case | National Archives). Describe the significance in Connecticut, the New Haven port and the Amistad trials.

Home Links/Reflections to Affirm Identity

Reflect on how the past is connected to the present, what are some events that happened during this time period that are similar to present-day events (i.e., civil rights leaders and movement, Afro-centric feminists, Black Lives Matter movement, etc.).

Read Jackson v. Bulloch and the End of Slavery in Connecticut | Connecticut History | a CTHumanities Project
Activity:

Gallery Walk. In groups, students walk around the classroom to view pieces of art Lesson plan: Six murals tell the story of La Amistad and the African slave trade | Lesson Plan | PBS NewsHour Extra

- Students write down what they see, and any ideas/feelings that come to mind as they view each mural.
- Students return to seats and write a reflection in their journal (option to use compass activity at this time).

Read: “The Amistad Comes to Life”.

Closing: Think pair share: Students independently identify 3 facts they learned in the lesson and reading.

Day 3 Underground Railroad and Harriet Tubman

Activity: Students examine the motives for and consequences of traveling the Underground Railroad and the influences of geography and politics. Mapping the Underground Railroad found at Harriet Tubman and the Underground Railroad | NEH-Education.

Closing/Evidence of Learning: Students detail one route of Underground Railroad via map or storyboard.

Day 1 Frederick Douglass

Initiation: Teacher shares some facts about Frederick Douglass including (to tie-in with previous lessons) that he is a famous leader/abolitionist and spoke at Anti-Slavery Society meetings. Frederick Douglass - Narrative, Quotes & Facts - HISTORY

Activity: Students work in small groups to analyze the letter from Frederick Douglass to Harriet Tubman Letter from Frederick Douglass to Harriet Tubman (differentiated reading/language translation available). Then, students read Africans in America/Part 4/Frederick Douglass speech or watch "What to the Slave is the Fourth of July?" https://www.youtube.com/watch?time_continue=2&v=NBe

Closing/Evidence of Learning: Students create a PSA to evidence How Douglass’ Fourth of July speech is relevant. What would you do or say today about the Fourth of July?

Day 2 Fugitive Slave Act of 1850

Initiation: Explain Fishbowl Protocol

Activity: Based on student interest, choose one of the activities below (text has vocabulary feature that explains key terminology):
- Activity 1: Analyzing the Fugitive Slave Act
- Activity 2: Comparing and Contrasting Two Points of View in Newspaper Reports
- Activity 3: Anthony Burns—Slave-Catchers Come to Boston for the Last Time

Closing/Evidence of Learning: After reading, students will engage in a Fishbowl protocol to explore questions posed in the activity.

Day 3 Fighting for Freedom

Initiation: Watch Sound Smart: Dred Scott Case | History Ask students what they know about Dred Scott and others who continued the fight of ending slavery.

Activity: In small groups, have students present a summary of the readings below.
- Bleeding Kansas (1854-1861) Bleeding Kansas (U.S. National Park Service) (nps.gov)
- Dred Scott Decision (1857) Dred Scott Case - Decision, Definition & Impact - HISTORY

Home Links/Reflections to Affirm Identity

Share reflections regarding “What to the Slave is the Fourth of July?”
Closing/Evidence of Learning: Students compose a written response to explain the acts of resistance in this time period and reflect upon the compelling question.

Unit 4

FOCUS ON AFRICAN AMERICAN/BLACK HISTORY

Long, Long History for Equality (1865-1915)
Title of Unit                Unit 4: Long, Long History for Equality (1865-1915)   Timeframe                  Late October-Mid November (3 weeks/14 days)
Developed By                Dr. Stacey Close and Paquita Jarman-Smith   Revision Date              June 18, 2021

Summary of Unit

This unit focuses on the period of Reconstruction (1865-77), Black Settlement, Towns, and Settlers in the West (1865-1915), and the struggle against the Jim Crow System.

This unit will also go into detail on the political contributions of African American politicians to the passage of the Reconstruction era: acts and laws that brought the right to citizenship, the right to vote, and public education. In addition, this course will focus on the African past as it relates to the development of the African American culture in the western hemisphere.

In this unit, students will:
• Examine how Africans and African descendants worked individually and collectively to spark revolutionary change to their existence.
• Explore the Reconstruction politics through literature and other accounts from primary documents and impact on Whites and Blacks.

Compelling Question: How was the Reconstruction a success or failure?

Recommended Learning Activities, including UDL Principles/Scaffolded Supports and Asynchronous and Synchronous Learning Opportunities

Day 1 Exploring the Black Family

Initiation: Introduce big ideas and key vocabulary. Revisit norms for “Safe Space” as discussion includes themes of race and racism, racial trauma, lynching, etc. Provide description of end of unit project and grading rubric (need to insert hyperlink for rubric).

Activity: After viewing America’s Reconstruction: People and Politics After the Civil War, students will reflect on the status of the Black family during Reconstruction. After students share ideas, watch video: The Civil War in Color: African Americans After the War | History.

Closing/Evidence of Learning: Students write/depict response to: What kind of systems did African Americans develop and how did they use them for autonomy, justice, and self-identity?

Day 2 Amendments

Initiation: Review Amendments to the Constitution.

Activity: Students specifically analyze the Reconstruction Amendments and the impact of these Amendments on Africans, African Americans, Blacks, and Whites in the United States at this time.
Students will be grouped and assigned an amendment to read and complete a synthesis of each amendment using the suggested “In Your own Words” graphic organizer. [The Reconstruction Amendments - National Constitution Center](https://www.national constitutioncenter.org/amendments)

Closing/Evidence of Learning: Each group will share with the class what they learned.

Give students independent assignments to continue their learning. They will share findings with the class on Day 4. Choices below:

- Students will take on the role of an African American legislator in the Reconstruction Era. Create a chart to list what his priorities will be in terms of enacting new laws, what roadblocks will be faced, and how to get the African American community involved in the political process.
- Research political cartoons of the Freedmen's Bureau and examine for points of view and bias using PowerPoint or another medium to summarize findings.

Closing/Evidence of Learning: Groups will report a synthesis of research. Class will discuss parallels and differences in today’s political arena for African Americans and Blacks.

Day 2 Patterns of Migration and Immigration

Initiation: Present an interactive overview of the movement westward of African Americans - a continued search for the “Promised Land” using The Geography of Hope https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=RcFXr6bB3o to describe the lived experiences of Blacks and what happened to inspire hope for them.

Activity: In small groups, students engage in a poster session protocol to share knowledge of Exodusters, Black Cowboys, and Buffalo Soldiers. (Protocol found on page 27 of curriculumtools_classroomprotocols_053017.pdf_eleducation.org). Each group will be given resources/text to research Exodusters, Black Cowboys, Buffalo Soldiers or Caribbean Migration. Groups create a poster with key points that each person in the group will use to teach their mixed group during gallery walk. Suggested resources include:

Recommemded Learning Activities, including UDL Principles/Scaffolded Supports and Asynchronous and Synchronous Learning Opportunities

Day 1 Jim Crow Laws

Initiation: Revisit Safe Space. Advise students of the sensitive nature of the materials and lesson. Use PROTOCOL Back-to-Back and Face-to-Face

Teacher will ask students to react to laws with a partner. Students respond then rotate to another partner after each question (10 minutes).

- All Blacks shall be required to own real property in order to qualify to vote. (New York)
- Black children shall be prohibited from attending Pittsburgh schools.
- No person or corporation shall require any white female nurse to nurse in wards or rooms in hospitals, either public or private, in which Negro men are placed. (Alabama)
- It shall be unlawful for a Negro and white person to play together or in company with each other at any game of pool or billiards. (Alabama)
- No colored barber shall serve as a barber [to] white women or girls. (Georgia)
- The officer in charge shall not bury, or allow to be buried, any colored persons upon ground set apart or used for the burial of white persons. (Georgia)

Home Links/Reflections to Affirm Identity

Reflect on Jim Crow and the residue left today... what actions would you take?

What discoveries are you making about the role of Black women in this period?
After students react to these laws, the teacher will explain that laws such as these existed in the United States and became known as “Jim Crow” laws.

Activity: Analyze photos of Jim Crow era using Analyzing Images Protocol Teaching Strategy: Analyzing Images | Facing History. Example of photos can be found: Jim Crow and Segregation | Classroom Materials at the Library of Congress | Library of Congress (loc.gov) the origins and persistence of the Jim Crow System to 1909

Closing/Evidence of Learning: Students individually write/depict response to prompt: How did Jim Crow influence the life of Blacks?

Day 2 Jim Crow and Racial Trauma

Initiation: Explore the Jim Crow Timeline in groups, stopping at May 31, 1909-June 1, 1909. Share out and discuss actions of the past and today’s society. https://www.ferris.edu/HTMLS/news/jimcrow/timeline/jimcrow.htm

- Ida B. Wells-Barnett Consider contributions of Black women in Resistance.

Activity: Ask students to design/create a “Freedom Dream” What is Freedom Dreaming? (message, visual, picture, song) about what changes are needed now to end racial violence and trauma. What will it look and sound like when we get to the Dream or MLK’s mountaintop? Dreams can be created with Apps, paper, or medium of choice.

- Form groups of helping trios to give feedback on “Freedom Dreams” from multiple perspectives. Helping Trios

Closing: Using Inside-Outside Circle, students will share reactions/reflections. Prompts: To what extent is the political and social “goodwill” still present to address lingering and current matters of race and equity? What rights should all Americans enjoy? What rights do only some Americans possess?

Day 3 W.E.B. Du Bois and Booker T. Washington

(Students will participate in a lesson adapted from Alabama History Education Initiative)

Initiation: Discuss What did the leading Black scholars of the day (W.E.B. Du Bois and Booker T. Washington) believe? What were W.E.B Du Bois’ critiques of Booker T. Washington?

Activity: Access the Booker T. Washington and W.E.B. DuBois: Two Paths to Ending Jim Crow” PowerPoint from W_E_B_DuBois_Booker_T_Washington_and_Jim_Crow_Lesson_October_2010.pdf
During the PowerPoint, students will use a Compare/Contrast Matrix to draw their own conclusions about the viewpoints of Washington and Du Bois.

Closing: Students individually write/depict response to prompt: As the leading Black scholar of the day, did W.E.B. Du Bois believe Reconstruction was a success or failure?

Options for Content Continuity Across History Courses and Interdisciplinary Integration

ELA - Students can develop an Exoduster Character that can be developed into a graphic mini novel or comic book story.

Extensions/Experiential Opportunities

Visit local historical societies (in-person/virtual)

The Strange Career of Jim Crow: C. Vann Woodward, William S. McFeely: 9780195146905

Read "Booker T. and W.E.B." by Dudley Randall - Famous poems, famous poets. - All Poetry.

“How does the poem illustrate the differences between Washington and DuBois?” Have them add to their Compare/Contrast Matrix

Read/explore in groups: Resistance, activism, the life of William Monroe Trotter

Lesson 4.4 The Education and Entrepreneurship of Blacks

Big Ideas/Topics to be Addressed, including Key Concepts and Terms

- Growth and development of both Historically Black Colleges and Public Education as a conduit for greater freedom
- Black Wall Street
- Business Entrepreneurs

Vocabulary: Entrepreneur, HBCU, Education of Blacks

Recommended Learning Activities, including UDL Principles/Scaffolded Supports and Asynchronous and Synchronous Learning Opportunities

Day 1 Schooling for Blacks

Initiation: Discuss how various groups created institutions for the education of Blacks. Connecticut Abolitionists (U.S. National Park Service)

Activity: In small groups, students research Connecticut early education opportunities for Blacks and share a summary of evidence with the full class. Recommend using virtual platforms: Padlet, Flipgrid, etc. Options:

- New Haven Negro College
- Prudence Crandall’s school
- Churches
- Mary Smith Kelsey Peake, Hampton https://edu.lva.virginia.gov/changemakers/items/show/3
- Rosenwald Schools, and Philanthropy

Questions for students to explore:

- Was education equal during this time?
- How were African Americans held back/advanced in educational achievement?
- How did resource budgets for segregated schools in the South compare to schools in Connecticut in 1900?

Closing/Evidence of Learning: Students share their summaries of evidence with the class.

Day 2 Black Wall Street and Business Entrepreneurs

Initiation: Watch and discuss parallels in the past and present https://www.youtube.com/watch?app=desktop&v=635PsaixFsM

Activity: Students will divide into groups and research Wall Street and Black Entrepreneurs and share a summary of evidence with the full class. Recommend using virtual platforms such as Padlet, Flipgrid, etc. Sources:

Questions for students to explore:

• How did African American entrepreneurs shape the economic system for Blacks, and the U.S. as a whole?
• What contributed to their success or demise?

Closing/Evidence of Learning: Students share summaries.

Day 3 New Negro Movement

Initiation: Have students read/analyze poem "If We Must Die": Claude McKay Limns the "New Negro" and explore how African Americans are depicted - Old vs. New Negro? (This should follow pre-reading for homework after Day 2 African American literature - The rise of the New Negro.)

Discussion questions:

• What explains the "racelessness" of "If We Must Die"?
• Compare "If We Must Die" to these lines from Alfred Lord Tennyson's 1842 poem "Ulysses":

  We are not now that strength which in old days
  Moved earth and heaven: that which we are, we are;
  One equal temper of heroic hearts,
  Made weak by time and fate, but strong in will
  To strive, to seek, and not to yield.

  What do these lines have in common with McKay's poem? Why might McKay have taken Victorian poetry as a model for "If We Must Die"?

Activity: In small groups, students use and explore The New Negro and the Black Image: From Booker T. Washington to Alain Locke, Freedom's Story, TeacherServe®

Each group uses their prior knowledge along with their new knowledge from resource to create a poster or other visual with key points that each person in the group will use to teach jigsaw groups for gallery walk. Students keep track of new learning using graphic organizer.

Closing/Evidence of Learning: Posters created by groups and individual notes.
Day 4 Contributions of Black Scientists, Inventors, and Innovators

Initiation: Brainstorm how Black Scientists, Inventors, and Innovators have contributed to the global society?

Teacher will provide a photograph of the following inventors/scientists for students to create a fact sheet and share out:

- Thomas Jennings
- Henry Blair
- Madame CJ Walker
- Elijah McCoy
- Lewis Lattimore
- Granville Woods
- Garrett Morgan

Closing/Evidence of Learning: Students will use exit ticket to answer: How did Black scientists, inventors, and innovators contribute to “community” and impact society?

Day 5 and 6 Socratic Seminar

Performance Task: This unit concludes with an End-of-Unit Performance Task in which students return to the compelling and pre-assessment questions (e.g., How did Reconstruction impact the families of Africans, African Americans, and Blacks? Was the Reconstruction a success or failure?). These questions guide students as they prepare (Day 5) and participate (Day 6) in a Socratic Seminar https://www.facinghistory.org/resource-library/teaching-strategies/socratic-seminar.

Summary of Unit

This unit will focus on Black Americans’ movements for equality, both geographical and societal. It will begin with the ideology of Nadir, which triggered the Great Migration of approximately a half million African Americans from Southern to Northern states between 1916 and 1918, and will then explore the fight for equal rights and the enormous contributions of Black people in America during the early 20th century. The unit should help students understand how the events of the period helped shape present-day systems.

Topics include: the impact of Jim Crow laws on Black communities and their resistance; The Harlem Renaissance and African American arts; Black Wall Street and the Tulsa Massacre; African American participation in WWI and WWII; the “Red Summer” of 1919; how FDR’s New Deal Fair Housing Act exacerbated segregation and led to current wealth/wage/opportunity gaps; the establishment of important organizations including the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), The Universal Negro Improvement Association (UNIA), the National Urban League, The Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), The National Council of Negro Women, The Nation of Islam (NOI), The Congress of Racial Equity (CORE), The Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee (SNCC); landmark Supreme Court decisions such as Brown v. BOE; major Civil Rights legislation such as CRA of 1957 and 1964, and the VRA of 1965; Black women’s role in the ongoing revolution; and the contributions of W.E.B. Du Bois, August Wilson, Mary Townsend Seymour, John Lewis, Dr. Mary McLeod Bethune, Constance Baker Motley, Mamie Till and others as detailed in the lessons.

In this unit, students will:

- Identify tactics, mission, and accomplishments of major groups involved in the movement for equality.
- Investigate the causes, consequences, and historical context of key events in this time period.
- Evaluate how individuals, groups, and institutions in the United States have both promoted and hindered people’s struggle for freedom, equality, and social justice.
- Analyze the role of the federal government in supporting and inhibiting various 20th century civil rights movements.
- Analyze the role of women of color in the women’s rights movement.

Compelling Question: How successful have Black Americans’ movements for equality been in transforming the dreams, status, and rights of Black Americans in the United States?

From Teaching Hard History A 6–12 FRAMEWORK FOR TEACHING AMERICAN SLAVERY

Key concept 9: Enslaved and freed people worked to maintain cultural traditions while building new ones that sustain communities and impact the larger world.

SUMMARY OBJECTIVE 19 Students will examine the ways that the federal government’s policies affected the lives of formerly enslaved people.

19.C By passing the 14th and 15th Amendments during Congressional (Radical) Reconstruction, the federal government made a commitment to protect the legal and political rights of African Americans. Federal troops enforced the civil and political rights of African Americans in the South during Congressional Reconstruction.

SUMMARY OBJECTIVE 22 Students will examine the ways that the legacies of slavery, white supremacy and settler colonialism continue to affect life in what is now the United States.

22.B Segregation and inequality persist in the United States. This is most evident in employment, housing and education but can also be seen in health care, workplaces, sports settings and churches.
Theme/Content Specific Enduring Understandings

For this Unit of Study, students will know and be able to...

Knowledge:
- Gain understanding of the role African Americans played in shaping the U.S. society, economy, and culture.
- Gain understanding of how African Americans advocated for freedom and justice.
- Gain understanding of how Blacks and African Americans used the arts to perpetuate a theme of hope, persistence and resilience.
- Evaluate how individuals, groups, and institutions in the United States have both promoted and hindered people’s struggle for freedom, equality, and social justice.
- Analyze the role of the federal government in supporting and inhibiting various 20th century civil rights movements.
- Analyze the role of women of color in the women’s rights movement.

Skills:
- Investigate a variety of primary resources (including both the Black and the White press) to analyze social and political changes for Black Americans in this period and reactions to these changes.
- Evaluate the roles of music and literature in the study of history.

Evidence of Learning

Pre-Assessment/Common Misconceptions

Pre-Assessment: Imagine you are a student during the time period. Describe your school day in a one-page journal entry.

Common Misconceptions:
- Group discussions
- Critical Self-reflections
- Entry/Exit slips
- Turn-and-talks
- Critical analysis of various historical documents, media (pictures, music, letters, journal entries, book excerpts, videos etc.)
- Word splash

Formative Assessments/Checks for Understanding

- How successful have Black Americans’ movements for equality been in transforming the dreams, status, and rights of Black Americans in the United States?

Performance Tasks and Criteria/Project-Based Applications (Aligned with Compelling Questions)

Students gather news articles, images, or online papers on period and then develop a claim and cite evidence to support argument using multiple sources in response to the following question: How successful have Black Americans’ movements for equality been in transforming the dreams, status, and rights of Black Americans in the United States?
- Black Americans are a monolith (there were varying viewpoints on how to achieve equal rights)
- Nonviolent protest ensured a nonviolent response. (In reality, there was violence against peaceful protestors.)

Explain how the perspectives of people in the present shape interpretations.

Day 1  The Nadir

Initiation: Assess background knowledge of “The Nadir of Race Relations” (connect to previous units on Reconstruction, Jim Crow South, the Great Migration) and create a “whiteboard splash”; teacher can correct, clarify, elaborate before segueing into specific lesson on how many African Americans settled in and around Hartford, CT.

- Watch the quick video clip The Nadir of Race Relations: The Nadir of Race Relations
- Have students explore “Jacob Lawrence: The Migration Series.” The Migration Series Panels #54, 57-60. Invite students to post reactions at the start of class on Padlet.

Activity: Using jigsaw approach, split groups into context-based periods. Read Somewhere in the Nadir of African American History, 1890-1920. Groups will report the key points of period to class.

Closing: Wrap up with group discussion with questions found in the discussion section: What was at stake for White and Black southerners at each point? How did White southerners wrest political power for themselves? How did Black southerners try to prevent their own oppression?

Day 2  Migration to CT

Initiation: Create a post for students to share their families’ migration journey. Where are the places your family has lived up until now? Students can check in with family to build on what they know of the places lived.

Activity: Read Hartford’s Great Migration through Charles S. Johnson’s Eyes (This could be provided as homework after Day 1.) In small groups, students will evaluate primary sources, CT History websites and reading/research to understand why Hartford (and CT) were desirable for African Americans and what challenges they faced, as well as explore local artists, businesses, photographs, musicians from that period of time in CT.

Closing/Evidence of Learning: Each group will compile a slideshow of artifacts/stories which portray the lived experiences of new arrivals to Hartford.

Day 3

Home Links/Reflections to Affirm Identity

Visit “Jacob Lawrence: The Migration Series” online. Choose a panel and discuss with family members. https://lawrencemigration.phillipscollection.org/the-migration-series

What is the history of their family’s migration? i.e., Did parents move from another state to pursue education, job opportunities, etc. Why did they settle there? Has the family been in the same city/state for generations? Why?

Read Kareem Abdul-Jabbar reflects on George Floyd protests and share learning and draw conclusions/parallels
Initiation:

Split the class. Students consider language of protest. Refer to the distinction of “riot” in the Tulsa Massacre of 1921 where insurance companies were absolved from having to pay Greenwood residents who lost homes and businesses. Discuss the negative connotation of the word “riot.” How has that negatively impacted progress? Why do our “labels” matter? Discuss the similarities/differences to “riot” based on current events to this time in U.S. history.

Activity:

Using the “Four As” Text Protocol, students highlight and write notes to answer the four questions:

- What assumptions does the author of the text hold?
- What do you agree with in the text?
- What do you want to argue with in the text?
- As a result of reading this text, what do you aspire to do?

Closing:
How should we acknowledge the atrocities of our past when we tell our history? (in preparation for Semester 2 Unit 2: Lesson 2.6 Scientific Experiments for additional examples of racial trauma and injustice.)

Day 4

Initiation: Close Read of Red Summer of 1919: How Black WWI Vets Fought Back Against Racist Mobs spotlighting what Black soldiers did upon their return from WWI. (Pre-reading may be given as homework after Day 3.)

Activity: In small groups, students read and react to words and pictures on pages 20-26 in TARGETING BLACK VETERANS. Students individually find a sentence that stood out to them and as a group they answer the “Four As” Text Protocol (see Day 3).

Evidence of Learning: Students choose one of the following prompts for written/recorded response:
- In what ways was the Great Migration a form of protest?
- What are some of the pushes and pulls for Blacks and African Americans to relocate their jobs and families to Hartford?
- How is the juxtaposition of hope manifested in the past and present history of Blacks and African Americans in the long battle for equality and ultimately continued existence?

Closing: Use safe space norms for a closing circle, and open discussion for students to share feelings, emotions, and parallels between this lesson and the Summer of 2020 or other racial protests.

Options for Content Continuity Across History Courses and Interdisciplinary Integration

Read/perform the play “Fences” by August Wilson. Students can reflect throughout the play how the main characters respond to the challenges of the time period. As a culminating activity they can discuss in small groups - How has the theme of hope manifested in the past and present history of Blacks and African Americans in the long battle for equality and ultimately continued existence?

Students can compare and contrast poems of Langston Hughes, Claude McKay, and Amanda Gorman to demonstrate incremental change or race relations over time.

Extensions/Experiential Opportunities

- The language of the unheard Hartford
- Teaching the Tulsa Massacre

Discuss the following:
- disparity in sentencing (see Ida Wells’ writing from the St. Louis riots in 1917) then and now
- anti-lynching bill(s)
- NAACP response to Birth of a Nation, Birth of a Nation, the NAACP, and Civil Rights

Lesson 5.2 The Power of Black Art: The Empowerment of Black People Through the Arts

Duration: 3 Days
Big Ideas/Topics to be Addressed, including Key Concepts and Terms

- Harlem Renaissance (early civil rights movement)
- The New Negro
- Empowerment of art - keeping hope alive
- Recognition of Black culture through the Arts (film, literature, art, music, and the media)
- Jazz as popular music known as the Jazz Age

Vocabulary: Harlem Renaissance, Jazz Age, Jazz, Dizzy Gillespie, Charlie Parker, Duke Ellington, Bebop, Prohibition, speakeasy

- The New Negro and the Black Image: From Booker T. Washington to Alain Locke, Freedom’s Story, TeacherServe®

Recommended Learning Activities, including UDL Principles/Scaffolded Supports and Asynchronous and Synchronous Learning Opportunities

Day 1

Initiation: Read “Mother to Son” by Langston Hughes. Reflect on Hughes’ contributions to the Harlem Renaissance. Ask how art like this has revitalized the notion of community. What is the message about hope in this piece? How does poetry contribute to our understanding of self and others? How can we use our voices to effectively invoke change in our world?

Home Links/Reflections to Affirm Identity

Ongoing reflections, a diary or journal, about why the art that a student chooses or gravitates toward is appealing or reflects their inner selves.

Reflect and identify a favorite painting, story, musical selection, etc., of the time. What resonated with you and why?
Use the QFT (Question Formulation Technique) to begin inquiry and develop strong questioning techniques. https://sites.lsa.umich.edu/inclusive-teaching/question-formulation-technique/

Activity: In small groups, students will begin developing questions on images from the time period. Students will ask themselves, How does the art I love connect or trace back in some way to the art of the Harlem Renaissance?

- Explore a map of the night life during the Harlem Renaissance https://www.6sqft.com/1932-map-illustrates-a-vibrant-nightlife-during-the-harlem-renaissance/
- Listen and view performances of jazz musicians such as Dizzy Gillepsie, Charlie Parker, and Marian Anderson.

Closing: As a class, discuss notices and wonderings.

Day 2

Initiation: Listen to songs that steered the Harlem Renaissance, ask questions about song title, and identify what they notice and wonder about lyrics. https://www.purdue.edu/convocations/harlem-100-artists-that-steered-the-harlem-renaissance

Activity: Based on student interest, choose a video from The Harlem Renaissance’s Cultural Explosion, in Photographs https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=0ivWbxIVFTs. Then, read Arturo A. Schomburg: His Life and Legacy.

Closing/Evidence of Learning: Students can choose to write a new verse to one of the songs, write a diary entry as if they were the singer telling about the song, or draw a picture about the song.

Day 3

Initiation: Begin class with “Don’t Mean a Thing (If It Ain’t Got That Swing)”, Louis Armstrong, Duke Ellington https://binged.it/3AhemlO. Students will discuss and share impressions of this piece.

Activity: Students will analyze the artistic culture of African Americans during the Harlem Renaissance. Students can do a quick search and self-select a person to explore (examples listed below). Students should capture contributions/legacy of the individual in a creative way.

- CT’s Bessye Proffitt
- Arturo Schomburg
- Pauline Elizabeth Hopkins
- Billie Holiday
- Duke Ellington

Closing/Evidence of Learning: Students will share contributions and use exit ticket to respond to prompt: How did the Harlem Renaissance impact society?

Big Ideas/Topics to be Addressed, including Key Concepts and Terms

- modern-day “de facto” segregation is a result of policies from the early 20th century
- Redlining prevented Blacks from buying property

Materials/Resources/Speakers

- 2 comments on “How Red Lines Built White Wealth: A Lesson on Housing Segregation in the 20th Century”

Recommended Learning Activities, including UDL Principles/Scaffolded Supports and Asynchronous and Synchronous Learning Opportunities

Day 1 Redlining

Initiation: Post question for students to respond to: How does real estate build wealth?

Activity: Follow lesson plan 2 comments on “How Red Lines Built White Wealth: A Lesson on Housing Segregation in the 20th Century”

Closing/Evidence of Learning: Focusing on FHA policies beginning in 1934, students write/depict response to How did New Deal policies further disenfranchise Black Americans?

Day 2 Segregation by Design

Initiation: Explore how modern-day “de facto” segregation is a result of policies from the early 20th century by watching documentary Segregated by Design (18 minutes). (This could be a “Flip the Classroom” activity to prepare students with background knowledge for class discussion after Day 1.)

Activity: Students will work in groups to present evidence of segregation on the local level and recommend a response.

Provide time for students to work on Be the Change... Project

Home Links/Reflections to Affirm Identity

Students can explore, What can I do to improve the racial equity of my school/town?
Closing: Students use an exit slip to respond to prompt: How did red lines build wealth and for whom?

Lesson 5.5 World War II - Tuskegee Airmen

Duration: 1 Day

Big Ideas/Topics to be Addressed, including Key Concepts and Terms

- The fight against fascism abroad and the tremendous contributions of Black servicemen once again ignited the push for justice and equality “at home.”
- Tuskegee Airmen
- Lemuel Custis was also Hartford’s first Black police officer
- Civil Rights Movement benefitting from fight against fascism

Day 1 Connecticut’s own Tuskegee Airmen

Initiation: Pre-assess knowledge of African American experience in WWII, Tuskegee Airmen.

Home Links/Reflections to Affirm Identity

Students ask family members about their families’ involvement in World War II and what they know about African American people’s involvement.
Activity: Split class into two groups for article analysis. Provide note-taking frame for students to use for Pair-Square activity after reading.

Then students watch NBC CT New Haven Honors Last Living Tuskegee Airman in Connecticut and add new knowledge to their notes.

Closing: Students use exit ticket to reflect on the irony of African American men fighting for freedom in comparison to lived experience in the U.S. What can be learned from their experiences?

Day 1  Legacies of Black Women

Initiation: Have students Brainstorm and research a prominent Black or African American Woman to spotlight in the lesson and share reasoning.

Day 2   Legacies of Black Women, Cont.

Activity: Students create a poster and oral story (using QR Code) about a Black female historical figure from CT to share contributions, and notable accomplishments. Encourage students to choose from a range of professions, including sciences, arts, culinary, and sports.

Closing: Discuss similarities in Women’s contributions from past and present.

Summary of Unit

This unit examines African American history from the political, economic, and cultural impact of Black Power to Black Lives Matter. During this era, African Americans used the vote to demand reform, created organizations such as the Black Panther Party to address police brutality, and created independent social programs. Since 1965, African Americans have made major progress, such as an increase of college graduates and decrease in poverty rate; however, institutional racism continues to undermine the progress of African Americans and African and Black Caribbean immigrants as well as an expanding Black middle class.

In this unit, students will:

- Examine how the Black community is shaped by a variety of identities, communities, and perspectives.
- Analyze historical, contemporary, and emerging means of changing societies, promoting the common good, and protecting rights.
- Reimagine new possibilities and more just futures for our country and our world drawn from the legacy of African American, Black experiences, intellectual thought, and culture.

Compelling Questions: What are the greatest issues facing Blacks and African Americans in the U.S. today? What does radically reimagining new possibilities and more just futures look and sound like now?

Desired Results

Theme/Content Specific Enduring Understandings

For this Unit of Study, students will know and be able to...

Knowledge:
- Evaluate ways that African Americans have navigated and used power in the past and what these approaches teach us about radically reimagining new possibilities and more just futures.
- Analyze and interpret the scope and legacy of resistance that has been integral to African American people’s resilience.

Skills:
- Through the use of primary and secondary sources, compare and contrast the contributions of various individuals and groups to the Civil Rights Movement, the Black Power Movement, and Black Lives Matter;

Theme/Content Specific Inquiry

For this Unit of Study, to support self-discovery, identity development, and civic preparedness/actions, students will explore...

- What have been the most strategies utilized by Black leaders to effect change in the modern era?
- How has Black artistic and cultural life impacted American society in the late 20th and 21st centuries?
include specific analysis of Connecticut-specific resources when analyzing the civil rights movement in the state.

- Use popular culture (television, music, films) to analyze the values and beliefs of Black Americans during this time period.

Recommended Learning Activities, including UDL Principles/Scaffolded Supports and Asynchronous and Synchronous Learning Opportunities

Day 1  Black Power Movement

Initiation: As students enter, play protest music of the time using artists Marvin Gaye, What’s Going On https://binged.it/33eLV90, and Sam Cooke, Sam Cooke - A Change Is Gonna Come (Official Lyric Video). Discuss themes of both songs and provide connections to concepts in this unit of study. Define key vocabulary associated with Radical, Reform, Revolution and link to unit summary with examples students may have heard in the songs.

Activity: Show video Newly Discovered 1964 MLK Speech on Civil Rights, Segregation, and Apartheid South Africa https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=jXemUtMzgEc (11 minutes) and follow with a discussion and reflection on Padlet of students’ key ideas in relation to Unit 1-5 as context for the Black Power Movement in the ’60s in both the U.S. and Africa.

Closing: Students explore how present day artists such as India Arie are using music to convey rationale for reform https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=GCKFFItNxy4.

Day 2  Malcolm X

Initiation: Students read and react to the articles on Malcolm X https://bit.ly/3egms5d and https://bit.ly/3ujqShj. Provide chart paper and Post-its for students to post their learnings about his life. Chart headings can include:

- What you admire and why
- What you are critical of and why.
- Were Malcolm X’s viewpoints radical examples? Reform, examples?
- Facilitate a short discussion about what Malcolm X stood for and how his life is valued in history.

Home Links/Reflections to Affirm Identity

Students ask caregivers (e.g., parents, grandparents, aunts, uncles, mentors, guardians, etc.) about their experiences with social justice movements over time (in or outside the U.S.). Why were they or weren’t they involved and what did they observe? How are stories being documented and captured before they are lost with the Baby Boomer generation? Ask for family photos and documents that chronicle these experiences.
Activity: Students will share arguments and evidence from the speech “By Any Means Necessary” [https://bit.ly/3fc8i8]. (This should be read/viewed for homework after Day 1.) Students will unpack how Malcolm X’s references to “Power” were defined. (Template link for arguments [https://bit.ly/3b3hFCb].) Provide time for students to explore FBI records on Malcolm X and compare/contrast the themes in both documents. [https://bit.ly/3nM7dEp]

Closing: Discuss: What were the high points of Malcolm X’s life and work? What role did he play in the Black Power Movement?

Day 3 Black Panthers and Young Lords

Initiation: Listen to Gil Scott Heron - The Revolution Will Not Be Televised. Students can also read the lyrics prior to an open discussion of the lyrics and meaning past and present.

Activity: ‘What We Want, What We Believe’: Teaching with the Black Panthers’ Ten Point Program (Contains lesson materials)
- Analyze/compare Young Lords’ 13-point system [https://bit.ly/3nNo0Xw] to Black Panthers
- Brainstorm list of today’s pressing social issues using Ten Points

Closing: Students share out and discuss 1 finding regarding the Black Panthers with the class.

Day 4: Taking a look at people behind the Black Panther movement

Activity: Students will research Black Panther Party bios in small groups (one renowned person per group) and make 4-5 bulleted slide for posting on class Google Drive.
- Walter “Rap” Bailey
- Ericka Huggins
- Huey P. Newton
- Bobby Seale
- Angela Davis
- Fred Hampton
- Bobby Rush
- Elaine Brown, Bob Brown
- Gloria Richardson

Closing/Evidence of Learning: Presentations and discussion of individual and collective contributions.
| Initiation: Ask students to Turn and Talk about the FBI’s role in Black Freedom Movement |
| Activity: Students explore COINTELPRO: Teaching the FBI’s War on the Black Freedom Movement (Contains lesson materials) and analyze declassified memos and other primary documents using COINTELPRO note-taking handout |

Recommended Learning Activities, including UDL Principles/Scaffolded Supports and Asynchronous and Synchronous Learning Opportunities

Day 1 Black Cultural Production

Initiation: Listen to The Last Poets - When The Revolution Comes. Provide lyrics for students to analyze for context of the time.

Activity: Students will experience how different sources of information like music, film, and stories tell us about the past and present culture and how people and groups made a difference. Set up class in 3 “stations.” Provide butcher block paper for the groups to record responses during rotations.

1. 70’s famous song/musical Genre Search: Create a list for students to research top hits such as Herbie Hancock, female jazz musician, Gospel song, Reggae, top R&B Hits, Top Funk, Go-go, etc. Students list top picks on chart paper that capture essence of era.

2. CT Artists: Independent research on film or jazz in Connecticut. The group will choose 1 artist of interest to summarize on chart paper.
   - Gigi Gryce, Jazz Musician
   - Horace Silver, Jazz
   - Arthur Prysock
   - Marietta Canty, actress

3. Black Aesthetic/Black Arts Movement: In pairs, students will explore 1 topic and write summary paragraph to post on chart paper.
   - Last Poets The Last Poets: The hip-hop forefathers who gave black America its voice
   - Kwanzaa Official Kwanzaa Website
   - Juneteenth JUNETEENTH WORLD WIDE CELEBRATION
   - R&B Motown Welcome to Motown Records - the New Definition of Soul
   - Black is Beautiful Black is Beautiful: The Emergence of Black Culture and Identity in the 60s and 70s

Students “share” recorded responses and discuss learning.

Closing: At the close of the stations, students will complete the following independently: If you could participate in a concert, event, celebration, or movement of this time period, what would you share with your friends and why?

Day 2 Hip Hop

Initiation: Start a discussion board of Hip-Hop song titles, including male and female artists.

Home Links/Reflections to Affirm Identity

Interview parents/family members regarding their experiences with music during this time period. What was culture like for persons who identified as Black, Hispanic, and/or White?
Activity: Listen to Tupac Changes - Clean and explore Culture of Vision and Voice https://bit.ly/2PRUiEs to create own Rap/rhyme to share with the class, illustrating present-day need for change.

Closing: Vote on top Rap song of all time using online voting tools.

Day 3 Film and Television

Initiation: Have students collaboratively select segment of Spike Lee film to watch and discuss theme/messages. (Review of sample segments can be given for homework after Day 2 and students can cast vote online before class.)

Activity: In small groups, students rotate through 2 stations and explore a topic. Teacher will prepare discussion question(s) ahead of time on Jamboard for Chalk Talk.

1. Explore Black Media and impact on society. Describe the impact of each organization on media.
   - Black Twitter & Social Media
   - The Root
   - BET
   - Black Journalists

2. Black Immigration and new Black identities. How have they changed Black identity?
   - Issa Rae
   - Tiffany Haddish
   - Idris Alba
   - Other

3. Black Film/TV. How did they impact popular culture? (Teacher will provide list of shows or movie clips from YouTube.)
   - Spike Lee/African American Films
   - Black Television/60s-80s sitcoms (Julia, Cosby Show, Good Times)
   - Fashion, Art, Music of School Daze

Closing: Students will use quick write to identify an artist, musician, show, or film they are connected with most, and indicate why. Note what role Blacks played in shaping culture of that time compared to now and influence on personal identity development.
Options for Content Continuity Across History Courses and Interdisciplinary Integration

Institutionalized Racism: A Syllabus, JSTOR Daily
Recommended Learning Activities, including UDL Principles/Scaffolded Supports and Asynchronous and Synchronous Learning Opportunities

Day 1 Black Lives Matter: From Hashtag to Movement

Initiation: View BLM'S #WHATMATTERS2020 and discuss meaning of Black Lives Matter. Ask students what expression means and what they know about it. Do they think of it as a current example of radical, reform, or revolution, and why?

Activity: Show the six-minute video #BlackTwitter After #Ferguson, which highlights three activists—DeRay McKesson, Johnetta Elzie and Zellie Imani—involved in the Black Lives Matter movement and addresses the ways in which social media helped facilitate their activism. Class discussion.

Students read and analyze/annotate How Black Lives Matter Moved from a Hashtag to a Real Political Force for class discussion. (This could be done for homework after Lesson 6.4 Day 3.)

Evidence of Learning: Students consider everything they learned during the lesson and then reflect on their own thinking about the Black Lives Matter movement. Students select one or more of the following prompts for quick write.

- What have you learned about racial equity that you didn’t know before?
- What have you learned about the Black Lives Matter that you didn’t know before?
- What do you agree or disagree with?
- Does the Black Lives Matter Movement inspire you to think about getting involved in activism on issues that are important to you? How so?
- Reflect on what you can do for social justice and why.

Closing: Revisit "Freedom Dreaming" from Unit 4/Jim Crow and create a representation (e.g., poster, poem, graphic, sculpture, TikTok, drawing/painting, photo board, etc.) with the 2020 protests for Ahmaud Arbery, Breonna Taylor, George Floyd, Daunte Wright and other local movements in mind. Students reflect:

- Is reform of inequitable systems enough?
- How will they dismantle, but more importantly rebuild outside of Eurocentric model?
- What does equity, justice, and love look like in our society (e.g., school, law enforcement, housing, physical and mental health care, etc.)?

Day 2 What matters to you and how do you show it?

Initiation: View Believe in something, even if it means sacrificing everything Students engage in Turn and Talk: Do you think the protest is effective in terms of raising awareness about issues of racial injustice? Describe it in 3 words.

Activity: Continue work on Course Projects: Radical Imagination Through the Arts and Be the Change Project

Day 3 Reparations

Initiation: View Chicago suburb to become first city to give Black residents reparations. Discuss and define reparations, and share Evanston, IL final vote results. Ask students to reflect on the impact of the decision on Black families.

Activity: In small groups, students read and discuss Reparations bill for descendants of slaves moves to House. Students find additional supporting documents which include other racial/ethnic groups who received reparations and record pros and cons to inform decision for/against.

Closing: Small groups present argument for/against and evidence to support (hyperlink for rubric to be added).

End of Semester Closing: Students complete post-assessment (see Unit 1; post-post assessment end of Semester 2) and share reflections on new learnings, understandings about African American/Black contributions to America and continue to organize representations for Radical Imagination Art Project and Be the Change Project which will culminate in Semester 2.

Summary of Unit

NOTE: At the beginning of Semester 2, there should be a general review of the major themes of Semester 1. Students should also be informed that during Semester 1 their instructor took a largely chronological approach to the subject matter, while Semester 2 will be more thematic and will spiral back to prior learning. Review of expectations for dialogue, safe spaces, and community of learners should occur. Students should be reminded that there will be many “difficult discussions” throughout the semester, and that it is important that all student voices be heard. Before beginning with the actual subject matter of Semester 2, students will take part in a project in which they attempt to find what they can about their own personal and family identity. Memories, interviews with family members, family letters, photographs, etc. can all be used to inform and complete an I Am From Poem. Sensitivity and assistance for students who may not have access to this information given their family situation should be provided up front.

Even before the United States became a republic, Latinos have contributed to the culture and history and life of the U.S. Yet, Latinos have been perceived as the “other.” Despite histories of migration, labor recruitment, wars, invasion, and occupations, millions of Latinos have persevered and demonstrated the beauty of their contributions. This unit will examine the early beginning and origins of what we know as Latin America.

In this unit students will:
- Explore Puerto Rican and Latino identity and culture.
- Examine the individual and collective identities of Puerto Ricans and Latinos and demonstrate understanding of how this influences the perception and realities of Puerto Rican and Latino people.
- Explore Latinos’ understanding of race.
- Understand how Latinos show up in Black-White binary.
- Examine Puerto Rican Migration.
- Learn about the strengths and contributions of African diaspora in Latin America and in the Caribbean.

Compelling Questions: How has Puerto Rican and Latino identity evolved over time? Is there a single “Latino identity”? Is there a Latino race?

Identity

1. Students will develop positive social identities based on their membership in multiple groups in society.

From Teaching Hard History A 6–12 FRAMEWORK FOR TEACHING AMERICAN SLAVERY

Key Concept 1: Slavery, which Europeans practiced before they invaded the Americas, was important to all colonial powers and existed in all North American colonies

SUMMARY OBJECTIVE 1: Students will recognize that slavery existed around the world prior to the European invasion of North America, changing forms depending on time and place. The enslaved often were perceived as outsiders: captives in war, the vanquished or colonized, or ethnic or religious.

1.B While people have enslaved others in many ways in different times and places, unfree labor is not always slavery. For example, chattel slavery is an intergenerational system of slavery where individuals are held as property and traded as commodities. Indentured servants are not enslaved. They sell their labor for a certain number of years to pay a debt.

Key Concept 2: Slavery and the slave trade were central to the development and growth of the colonial economies and what is now the United States.

SUMMARY OBJECTIVE 2: Students will describe the nature and extent of colonial enslavement of Indigenous people.
2.B All European colonies enslaved Indigenous people for profit, justifying the practice because of perceived racial and cultural inferiority. Many enslaved Indigenous people were forced to labor far from home, as evidenced by the mass export of women and children to Europe and the Caribbean, often called the “Reverse Middle Passage.”

Students and their family watch Latinos: How you See Me? and discuss: How do “we as a family” view other Latino families?
DAY 2

Activity: Watch the film Latinos Beyond Reel or John Leguizamo’s Play on Latinx History (Parental consent needed) and facilitate discussion using the following question: How does the media portray Latinos most often? Do you think Latinos are invisible in the U.S.? If yes, why?

Evidence of Learning: Review the definition of corner, culture, and color with students. Provide students with culture card handout. Have them complete the entire card with the directions from the sheet.

Closing: Affirm students’ identity, thank them for sharing, and show excitement for the semester and continued learning. Have students complete “I Am From Poem” for homework.

Options for Content Continuity Across History Courses and Interdisciplinary Integration

English

Extensions/Experiential Opportunities

Students watch Latin History for Morons by John Leguizamo (Netflix) and discuss the facts of Latino history they learned.

Lesson 1.1 Latinos on Race while living in between the Black and White Binary

Duration: 2 Days

Big Ideas/Topics to be Addressed, including Key Concepts and Terms

- Is Latino a Race?
- The concept of Race in Latin America today
- What does it mean to be Latino?

Materials/Resources/Speakers

- Race: The Power of An Illusion (PBS documentary)
- Caste: The Origins of Our Discontent
- Opinion | A Conversation With Latinos on Race
- U.S. House of Representative quotes on Identity: Alexandria Ocasio-Cortez: Just Because I have Black Ancestry Doesn't Mean I’m Black
- Alexandria Ocasio-Cortez faces backlash for comments comparing Latinos’ descent to Blacks
Recommended Learning Activities, including UDL Principles/Scaffolded Supports and Asynchronous and Synchronous Learning Opportunities

Day 1

Initiation: Begin by asking students about their preconceived notions on the definition of race. Have them come up with 4 different examples of race. Provide students with the Ibram Kendi’s definition of race: “Race is a power construct of collected or merged differences that lives socially.” Continue the mini-lesson with history of the concept of race for pre-Columbian civilization and for Europeans (race concept created in Europe to help justify slavery). Ask students if they believe Latinos are a “race.”

Activity: Show portion of Race: The Power of an Illusion Part 1 (Clip 49:24-55:30). Discuss as a class using Race: The Power of an Illusion Background Readings as guide. Students stand in one of four corners of the room to indicate their position about each prompt (strongly agree, agree, disagree, strongly disagree) and discuss in small groups why they chose that.

Day 2

Activity: Explore/View/Discuss Conversation with Latinos on Race. Debrief with students on their thoughts and feelings on what is race?

Watch The myth of race, debunked in 3 minutes and debrief with students on their thoughts and feelings on what is race?

Home Links/Reflections to Affirm Identity

Discuss with family members the impact of race in their lives.
Closing: Read aloud Isabel Wilkerson’s excerpt from Caste on race and have students answer final 2 questions on handout as exit ticket.

Extensions/Experiential Opportunities

How has the concept of “race” impacted the history and everyday lives of individuals of Puerto Rican or Latin American descent today?

Lesson 1.2  Latino Culture: The Multiple and Evolving Identities of Latinos

Big Ideas/Topics to be Addressed, including Key Concepts and Terms

- Multiple identities (i.e., Hispanic v Latino/a vs. Spanish)
- Evolution of multiple identities
- Language
- Identity, race, and census

The following topics can be addressed if time permits and students are ready to share:

- Latino passing: what does this mean?
- Language and its relationship to the Latino identity

Duration: 3 Days

Materials/Resources/Speakers

- Latino Identity Declines Across Generations
- Between Two Worlds: How Young Latinos Come of Age in America
- Portrait Of: The Founder and CEO of KIND
- Origin of Everything | Why Do We Say "Latino"? | Season 3 | Episode 14
- My identity is a superpower -- not an obstacle
- Latino and Hispanic identities aren’t the same. They’re also not racial groups.

- Passing vs. Non-Passing: Latina/o/x Experiences and Understanding of Being Presumed White
- What I’ve learned as a White-Presenting Latina and a Call to Non-Black Latinx to Engage in the Fight for Racial Equity
- The Spectrum Activity, Questions of Identity – Inclusive Teaching
Recommended Learning Activities, including UDL Principles/Scaffolded Supports and Asynchronous and Synchronous Learning Opportunities

Day 1

Initiation: Begin lesson by showing pictures of actresses and ask students to privately identify them on a piece of paper as Latina, Hispanic, and/or Spanish. Review correct answers at the end and then engage students in discussion of what it means to be Hispanic, Latina, and Spanish. Handout

Activity: Lead discussion on Hispanic vs. Latino/a vs. Spanish vs. Latinx. Students examine the differences between terms used to identify someone of Latin American descent engaging in one or more of the following:

- View video and read an article from Vox: Latino and Hispanic identities aren’t the same. They’re also not racial groups.
- Complete 2020 census questions 8 and 9 and discuss (questions are included in the handout.)
- Ask students how many use the term Latinx when describing themselves or other students’ using class poll on Google Forms.
- Work on the handout looking at pro/anti “Latinx” articles with questions. End with a class poll (post) on Google forms again...see if anything changed (see handout).

Day 2

Activity: TikTok or PSA project Handout explaining the following:

- Differences between Latino v Hispanic v Spanish vs. Latinx
- Make a claim: should someone use the term Latinx? Why or why not?

Day 3

Home Links/Reflections to Affirm Identity

Have students show the video: A Conversation With Latinos on Race | Op-Docs video from the New York Times to their families and ask: How do we identify as a family? How are we received by other people? Are there any similarities or differences in how we identify and how other people see us?
Activity: Engage students in the Spectrum Activity and discuss: What aspect of identity affects Puerto Ricans and Latinos the most? The Spectrum Activity, Questions of Identity – Inclusive Teaching

Closing/Evidence of Learning: Students share out their TikTok or PSA and discuss what they did and didn’t know about each other.

Lesson 1.3: Where Do We Come From? African and Indigenous Diaspora in Puerto Rico and in Latin America

Duration: 3 Days

Big Ideas/Topics to be Addressed, including Key Concepts and Terms

- African and Indigenous Diaspora
- African and Indigenous diaspora contributions (music, food, literary genres, etc.)
- Strengths and contributions of African and Indigenous diaspora in Latin America and Caribbean

Vocabulary: Diaspora, Intersectionality

Materials/Resources/Speakers

- Black in Latin America (film)

- Lost History: Rediscovering the Taíno People
- Puerto Rico's Bomba, A Dance of The African Diaspora | KQED Arts
- The Puerto Rican Heritage Poster Series | Centro de Estudios Puertorriqueños

- AFRO PUERTO RICO: The African Diaspora in Puerto Rico
- Culture | Cool Girls Guide | ESSENCE
Recommended Learning Activities, including UDL Principles/Scaffolded Supports and Asynchronous and Synchronous Learning Opportunities

Day 1

Initiation: Students are asked to reflect on learning from Semester 1 and other history classes about the people of the African Diaspora (e.g., the forced migration to the Caribbean) and on the Indigenous populations. Using the Tainos as an example, ask students to name contributions of the Tainos and the Africans that were brought to Latin America. Have a mini-lesson explaining to students what diaspora means as it relates to the African and Indigenous contributions to Latin America and Puerto Rico.

Day 2

Activity: Have students think about the diaspora and the positive influences of culture, class, and language on experiences, and contributions and impact in Puerto Rico and Latin America. Have them write a discussion post using any of the following:

- Ask students to watch excerpt of Black In Latin America, Haiti & Dominican Republic: The Roots of Division of Haiti and Dominican Republic from Black in Latin America
- Have students read poems about the African and Indigenous Diaspora. Examples are found in this article (Note, there may be poems using words that may sound offensive. Review before showing the students): These Powerful Poems About Afro Latinidad Will Fill You With Pride 02.07.18. Indigeneous diaspora examples: Two Poems by Elicura Chihuailaf | Latin American Literature Today, Two Poems by Graciela Huinao | Latin American Literature Today, Three Poems by Leonel Lienlaf | Latin American Literature Today and Celebrating Indigenous Voices: New Poetry and Literature Recordings in the PALABRA Archive | 4 Corners of the World: International Collections and Studies at the Library of Congress
- Have students listen and watch examples of music and dance influences such as Peru afro dance of Chincha, Capoeira (Afro-Brazilian martial art), Best Capoeira Brazil, Colombia, Louis Towers y Colombiafrica - El Liso, Oye mi canto - Reggaeton Niños, Dominican Republic, Juan Luis Guerra -

Home Links/Reflections to Affirm Identity

Students discuss their understanding of Diaspora with their family members.

Students and their families examine the following website Institute for Cultural Diplomacy: The African Diaspora in Latin America and discuss their new learning.
Day 3

Activity: Inquiry chart. Teacher explains that students are going to be working in groups of 2 or 3. Provide students with images related to the contributions of Tainos to Puerto Rican Culture. Glue images onto chart paper (one image per chart). Place the charts around the room and have students rotate as a small group. Ask students to write on the chart paper or use a sticky note, what they think the image is conveying. Then have students watch How Taino Culture Affects Us Today or Did the Natives of Puerto Rico really go extinct? Discuss images and video, giving students time to share and respond to what they posted.

Alternate Activity: View Puerto Rico's Bomba, A Dance of The African Diaspora | KQED Arts (6:34), AFRO PUERTO RICO: The African Diaspora in Puerto Rico, and Plena video https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=DR-zbs0S6_0. Have students reflect and discuss: What did you find interesting? What was the purpose of Bomba dancing? What was the purpose of Plena? How did the contributions of the Africans and Tainos provide important aspects to the Puerto Rican identity?

Evidence of Learning: Have students create a discussion post about how the contributions from the African and Indigenous shaped Latino identity.

Closing: Students popcorn share their new learning, including reason for importance to own identity.

Summary of Unit

This unit dives deeply into the ancient civilizations of Latinos, which extend back thousands of years prior to the Columbian exploration. After reviewing the achievements and accomplishments of the Native Americans found in Central America, South America, and the Caribbean in the previous unit, this unit begins with the first European encounter with the Indigenous people and Columbus in 1492. It explores the mistreatment of the Indigenous by Europeans, and then the second part of the unit focuses on the treatment of Latinos throughout American History.

In this unit, students will:

- Explore different perspectives on how the Natives were treated by the Europeans and the voices like Bartolomeo de las Casas, who left a single perspective of this historical encounter behind.
- Explore various forms of anti-Latino treatment such as scientific experiments in Puerto Rico and Guatemala, and language suppression.
- Become more aware of the contributions of Latino people to American history in spite of oppression.

Compelling Question:

How has the persisting narrative of the voyages of Columbus held long and short-term consequences for the formation and evolution of the identity of Puerto Ricans and Latinos?

Desired Results

Identity

2. Students will develop language and historical and cultural knowledge that affirm and accurately describe their membership in multiple identity groups.

From Teaching Hard History A 6–12 FRAMEWORK FOR TEACHING AMERICAN SLAVERY

Key Concept 2: Slavery and the slave trade were central to the development and growth of the colonial economies and what is now the United States.

SUMMATIVE OBJECTIVE 2: Students will describe the nature and extent of colonial enslavement of Indigenous people.

2.C European pursuit of enslaved Indigenous labor caused widespread warfare. Often, colonists financed or otherwise coerced their Indigenous allies to engage in wars with other Indigenous peoples for the purpose of acquiring people to enslave. Some Native nations initiated conflicts and captured profit from selling captives to Europeans.

SUMMATIVE OBJECTIVE 3: Students will describe the slave trade from Africa to the Americas.

3.A. Western Hemispheric destinations of captive Africans included South America, the Caribbean and North America

3.C Europeans argued that dark skin color (which they hyperbolically described as “Black”), lack of Christianity and different styles of dress were evidence that Africans were less civilized. These were rationales for enslavement. Many believed that it was generally acceptable to enslave non-Christians.

| Pre-Assessment/Common Misconceptions | Formative Assessments/Checks for Understanding | Performance Tasks and Criteria/Project-Based Applications (Aligned with Compelling Questions) |
Pre-Assessment: Teachers will facilitate review of prior knowledge using multiple True/False statements via Kahoot or Human Line-Up.

Common Misconceptions:
- Columbus and the Spanish/Portuguese helped Native Americans to become “civilized”
- Columbus is seen as a hero by most Americans
- There are only a few times in American history where Latinos have been mistreated
- Latinos are treated as equals to Whites

Debate

- Article Questions
- Primary Source Analytical Graphic Organizer
- Timeline creation
- Reflection written piece

Remembrance Posters
- Students will use Google Doc, Google Drawing, or hand drawing to create a remembrance poster for a Latino victim of violence. The artifacts are intended to create discourse of impact and to ensure stories regarding the challenges of the current Latino generation in the U.S. are being told in order to interrupt perpetuation of future acts of violence.

- Learning Unit 2: Tainos
- The Individualist Legacy in Latin America
Recommended Learning Activities, including UDL Principles/Scaffolded Supports and Asynchronous and Synchronous Learning Opportunities

Day 1

Initiation: Introduce the purpose and the objectives of the unit with a pre-assessment. Have students brainstorm names of Indigenous tribes, and what they know about Indigenous and African populations. Ask the class, do these tribes still exist? Why or why not? Discuss.

Activity: Students break down the origin of Indigenous American myths using the Indigenous Myths Slides and Activity that introduces the basic idea of Native Americans, known stereotypes, and lies people have been taught throughout history. Students match the 1491 excerpt to the myth it disproves to provide the counterstory.

Closing: Students share the most shocking fact they learned about Indigenous populations.

Day 2

Initiation: Students discuss any Indigenous tribe that they are familiar with, focusing on Latin America. As a class, create a list of the major tribes: Tainos, Arawaks, Kalina, Caribs, Triple Alliance (Aztecs), Olmecs, Mayas, Incas.

Activity: Explore/View/Discuss Lost History: Rediscovering the Taíno People (8:33) Students watch/listen and write individual notes to answer: Who are the Taíno People? What are two interesting facts you learned?

Closing: Students Pair-Share-Square interesting facts.

Home Links/Reflections to Affirm Identity

Survey the class and see if there are students who have a family member from a country in Latin America and/or the Caribbean. Ask the student(s) to share their known facts about indigeneity in their culture with the class.

Consider having students create a video/written reflection on their interview with a family member about indigeneity in their culture.
Initiation: Focus on the lives of the Taino tribe by viewing The Last Taino [full documentary] through Edpuzzle Edpuzzle: The Last Taino Documentary and answer the guiding questions. (This can be given for homework after Day 2.)

Activity: Students explore other major Indigineous groups of Latin America by creating an on-line museum Indigenous American Museum Project or a news broadcast Indigenous America News Broadcast for a particular Indigenous group.

Activity: Students review each other’s online museum or news broadcast using Evaluation of Museum and News Broadcast Activity to provide feedback and facilitate class discussion about Indigenous populations.

Closing: Exit Slip - How would you rewrite history based on what you know now?

Options for Content Continuity Across History Courses and Interdisciplinary Integration

Students read and write a monologue or a poem about what they think “Four Hundred Years of Solitude” is about (Chapter 2 of the book “War Against ALL Puerto Ricans”)

Rewriting History—for the Better - Students think about how the information learned relates to Native Americans in the U.S.

Lesson 2.2 Columbus and His Actions in the Caribbean

Recommended Learning Activities, including UDL Principles/Scaffolded Supports and Asynchronous and Synchronous Learning Opportunities

Day 1

Initiation: Give students the opportunity to discuss what they learned about Christopher Columbus and his legacy in previous history classes and what they think about current-day debate of removal of Columbus statues.

Activity: Use Zinn’s “A People’s History of the United States” segment (hyperlink to be added) to give Columbus’ first thoughts as he walked into Hispaniola. Provide students with the People v Columbus activity handout for research and to structure class debate. Students should draw from a variety of primary and secondary sources to support stance. (hyperlink to be added with teacher tips and guidance).

Day 2

Initiation: View/Discuss Trevor Noah video on Columbus Day What’s with Columbus Day? | The Daily Social Distancing Show.

Home Links/Reflections to Affirm Identity

Ask parent/guardian what they know about Columbus’ history.

Have students share with their parents their campaign to abolish or keep Columbus Day.

Students ask parents their thoughts on this new learning in regards to the real “Christopher Columbus.”
Activity: In small groups, students read article found in Columbus Day and Statute Activity and use Final Word Protocol https://schoolreforminitiative.org/doc/final_word.pdf to discuss what they think about abolishing Columbus Day and replacing it with Indigenous Peoples’ Day. Students contribute to creation of written statement/mini presentation for the Board of Education using evidence to support recommendations regarding the future of Columbus Day in district.

Closing: Students use an exit ticket to identify what more they believe they need to learn regarding the impact that Columbus’ actions had in Puerto Rico and in Latin America.

Share with parent/guardian examples of new learning/counterstory
Initiation: Provide background information on Bartolomé de las Casas and engage students in close read of excerpt from A Brief Account of the Destruction of the Indies and excerpt from sample of Columbus’ journal entries Internet History Sourcebooks Project as examples of counterstory.

Activity: In small groups, students analyze segments of A Brief Account of the Destruction of the Indies about Bartolomé de Las Casas. Students engage in “critical inquiry discussion” regarding their new learning using Reciprocal Teaching Protocol http://www.adlit.org/strategies/19765/. Teachers check for students’ understanding of the impact that Bartolomé de Las Casas had on exposing the atrocities of Columbus’ treatment of Indigenous People that resulted in their conversion to Christianity.

Evidence of Learning: Students write an op-ed or letter to an elected official to request a proclamation recognizing Indigenous people on Columbus Day.

Closing: Teachers check for students’ understanding of the impact that Bartolomé de Las Casas had on exposing the atrocities of Columbus’ treatment of Indigenous People that resulted in their conversion to Christianity.

Lesson 2.5 Anti-Latino Massacre Timeline

Big Ideas/Topics to be Addressed, including Key Concepts and Terms

- Violence manifested toward the Indigenous populations after the arrival of Columbus in 1492
- How does violence manifestation 500 years ago compare to current transgressions against Latinos today?
- Demonstrate an understanding of the interconnected violence among the Indigenous, Africans, and Spaniards to understand how it manifested with scientific experiments

Note: The sensitivity of this topic may require adjustments with regards to how it is introduced, explored, and analyzed. Consultation is suggested to ensure not to invoke or perpetuate a traumatic learning experience.

Recommended Learning Activities, including UDL Principles/Scaffolded Supports and Asynchronous and Synchronous Learning Opportunities

Day 1

Initiation: Mini lesson on violence and its manifestation historically since the arrival of Columbus. Provide context on how anti-Latino violence has permeated through the years. Teach on the ways beliefs, values, and stereotypes that people may have enforced anti-Latino sentiments in the U.S.

Activity: Provide students the anti-Latino violence article from the LA Times, El Paso massacre was just the latest in long line of anti-Latino violence in the U.S., regarding the pattern of continued treatment of Latinos in the U.S. Teacher guides the class in creating an Anti-Latino Violence Timeline with eight (8) events ranging from 1849-2019 to demonstrate.

Day 2

Activity: Students discuss how violence has maintained the oppression of Latino people. Ideas that may be discussed: BLM, George Floyd, Andres Guardado protests, "All Lives Matter," Latino violence. Begin by giving a brief history of police video: Police: Last Week Tonight with John Oliver (HBO) (6:10-11:10).

Use either Google Doc, Google Drawing, or hand draw Remembrance Poster for a victim of violence. Remembrance Poster Instructions. - What message are you (student) trying to convey?
- What are the challenges of memory and commemoration that are introduced in the poster you (student) created?
- What do you (student) think is most important for others to know about the person you are highlighting?
- What does the person’s life and death demonstrate about the long-term experience of Latinos in the U.S.?

Closing: Ask students to think of ways they can share this new knowledge with other students and family members. Have students also think about ways in which they can help eliminate bias, negative beliefs, and stereotypes about Latinos.

Recommended Learning Activities, including UDL Principles/Scaffolded Supports and Asynchronous and Synchronous Learning Opportunities

Day 1

Initiation: Begin by asking students if everyone in the U.S. should be obligated to speak English. Record their thoughts and beliefs on “English only.” Ensure that all perspectives are heard, reminding students of agreements for safe and brave learning space. (This should include reading of one article regarding Spanish language suppression in the U.S. after Lesson 2.6 Day 3.)

Activity: Choose and read a poem of resistance from ALOUD: Voices from the Nuyorican Poets Café by Martin Espada and Tato Laviera. To complement article, read and write/depict response to one of the following prompts:
- How did the use of English support the notion of colonialism and assimilation for Puerto Ricans?
- What were the effects or consequences of language suppression for different Puerto Ricans and Latinos?
- In what ways did language suppression facilitate resistance by the Puerto Rican community to overcome?

Day 2

Activity: Students select one of the following:

1. Using the following quote by President Theodore Roosevelt to immigrants from the mainland: “There is no room in this country for hyphenated Americanism. ... Any man who comes here ... must adopt the institutions of the United States, and, therefore,...must adopt the language which is now the native tongue of our people, no matter what the several strains in our blood may be. It would not be merely a misfortune, but a crime to perpetuate differences of language in this country.” Write/depict synthesis about the dangers of language suppression.

2. Use the Language Suppression in USA summary and Final Word Protocol to discuss in small groups how language was suppressed in the U.S., incorporating own experiences or personal stories in response to the following questions:
   - What would you do differently if you had to deal with language suppression?
   - How do you advocate in ways that do not perpetuate language suppression?

Closing: Have students discuss if language suppression is happening in their high school, city/town, or state.

Summary of Unit

In this unit, we walk through the sands of time to remember the blood, beauty, and sweat that contributed to the further development of the Puerto Rican and Latino social and economic structures. These cultures have demonstrated endurance and resilience during countless trials. Even through difficult times, they have nurtured their roots with their ancestors' culture. Perseverance, optimism, and fortitude are the hallmarks of Latinos’ striving for equity. The permanent emotional connection with their culture and identity keep them reimagining their independence, economic growth, and prosperity.

In this unit, we will examine how the complex relationship between politics and economic policies helps us explain the current level and range of economic development in the region. Students will:

- Explore how colonialism impacted the development of Latin America societies during a period of social, economic “transformation.”
- Examine and interpret how Latin Americans and Puerto Ricans constructed and interpreted racial, ethnic, class, and gender identities as a result of historic and economic experiences of enslaved Africans in Latin America and in Puerto Rico.
- Investigate the ways in which United States relations with Puerto Rico and Latin America help or hinder social and economic growth.
- Examine specific role of Indigenous, Spaniards, and Africans in the formation of the Puerto Rican Nation.
- Evaluate how severe economic policies impact the economic growth of Puerto Rico and Latin America currently.

Compelling Question: How did power and hierarchy come together to create the social and economic structures of Puerto Rico and Latin America?

Theme/Content Specific Enduring Understandings

For this Unit of Study, students will know and be able to...

Knowledge:
- Examine the scope and legacy of colonization and resistance that has been integral to Puerto Rican and Latino populations.
- Evaluate the diverse experiences of the enslaved natives and Africans enslaved in Latin America.
- Analyze and describe the history of how U.S. relations and policies impacted both positively and negatively the social and economic development of Puerto Rico and Latin America.

For this Unit of Study, to support self-discovery, identity development, and civic preparedness/actions, students will explore...
- What were the effects of the arrivals of “Conquistadores” on the Indigenous populations in Latin America and in Puerto Rico? What were the motivating factors for colonization?
- How did the slave trade affect Latin America?
- What were the implications of the integration of both the Indigenous peoples and Africans into colonial society?
Skills:
- Analyze primary sources representative of social, cultural, and political and economics of Latinos and Puerto Ricans during a specific time period.
- Communicate more effectively in oral, written and artistic form.
- Identify and contextualize historical sources written from the perspective of “missing voice.”
- All nations have different identities and the U.S. was formed with and by people of different origins and beliefs. Do those differences make the U.S. stronger?
- What aspects of African and Indigenous cultures remain today in Latin America?
- Was United States citizenship earned or given to Puerto Ricans?

3.1 Emergence of Latin American “People”

Lesson 3.1-1 The arrival of the “Conquistadores” (transition to identity) and the Legacy of Colonialism (1400s)

Duration: 3 Days

Big Ideas/Topics to be Addressed, including Key Concepts and Terms
- Consequences and impact of the arrival of colonizers
- Encomienda System
- Inequality vs. Inequity
- Women’s roles

Vocabulary: Conquistadores, Encomienda System, Inequality, Inequity, Single Story

| Recommended Learning Activities, including UDL Principles/Scaffolded Supports and Asynchronous and Synchronous Learning Opportunities |

| Initiation: Teacher introduces the purpose and the objectives of the unit with a pre-assessment. Students list all of the countries and the capitals that they know of Latin America and then write a sentence or bullets about what they know of each of the countries. |

| Home Links/Reflections to Affirm Identity |

| Students watch a video with their families and discuss things that they did not know about Indigenous populations in Puerto Rico. |
Teacher writes the word “Colonization” on the board and have students brainstorm ideas about what they know about colonization. Teacher conducts mini-lesson about the arrival of the colonizers.

Introduce the concept of multiple perspectives as it relates to the unit (e.g., how hard people of Latin America countries worked while continuing to be taken advantage of and oppressed. Stories of individual and collective perseverance eventually led to a new evolution of identity and resiliency.) Remind students that the history that they are going to learn about is not about one perspective, rather from multiple ways of knowing and sharing history.

Activity: Teacher provides context of how Spaniard arrival changed the labor system (e.g., The Birth of Spanish America). Then, students choose one of the four women from the reading to research answering the following:
- The most surprising part of this introductory reading. Explain.
- Name of person chosen
- Source
- 5 NEW facts

Day 2

Activity: Teacher starts by providing a mini-lecture “on the organization of labor for the purpose of God, Gold, and Glory” and introduces the first form of economic system called the Encomienda System. Students read, annotate, and discuss questions in pairs or as a class The Encomienda ACTIVITY The Encomienda ANSWER SHEET.

Day 3

Initiation: Watch and discuss Chimamanda Ngozi Adichie: The danger of a single story.

Activity: In small groups, students research the varying viewpoints and perspectives on the Encomienda System of the enslaved Africans, enslaved Indigenous, and Spaniards/Colonizers. Students then prepare for debate from the perspectives that they researched answering the following questions:
- How was the Encomienda System similar to or different from slavery?
- How did/didn’t the Encomienda System create/contribute to racial hierarchies?
- How do/don’t we think about “the other”? Who gets to tell the history of Puerto Ricans and Latinos?

Closing: Students discuss understanding of how issues of inequality and desire for freedom influence culture and/or new cultural patterns in different countries of Puerto Rico and Latin America.

New research links ancient indigenous DNA to living Puerto Ricans

Compose a song with their families using African roots and/or Indigenous roots.

Spend a few minutes discussing the video and the article with the students. Ask students to create a Venn diagram comparing/contrasting Slavery in North American and Central/South America with at least four different points in each section using Google Drawing activity.

Day 2

Activity: Students are divided into groups and each group receives a primary source photograph and/or painting to analyze. The photographs and/or paintings are images of “enslaved peoples” (African and Indigenous) experiences from 1600-1800 Slavery Images. Students use Photo Analysis Worksheet from the National Archives and Records Administration to analyze the images and discuss and infer about the daily life of enslaved people and their families in Latin America. Ensure that students are paying attention to social issues related to race, class, and gender.

Closing: Have students reflect on the following question: How did gender roles impact the labor force in Puerto Rico and Latin America?

Day 1

Initiation: Begin by recapping Labor, Slavery, and Caste in Spanish America [APUSH Unit 1 Topic 5] 1.5 and have students write five facts from the video.

Activity: Introduce the Racial Caste system of Latin America by viewing and discussing When Worlds Collide | sistema de castas | PBS.

Day 2

Activity: Students read Spanish Caste System and compare how Latinos “fit into the American Racial Caste system” using the America’s Enduring Caste System Worksheet with excerpts from NY Times article on caste system to conduct analysis (some students may also want to consider Black Pride). Students share their first-hand experiences or experiences of their family members regarding the intersection of race and class identities.

Closing: Students use exit ticket to reflect on whether or not they believe Latin America can claim it is a post-racial society.

Initiation: Teacher starts with a mini-lesson on the evolution of multiple identities. Ensure that students understand the meaning of Ethnic Identity and Social Identity.

Activity: Students choose from the following to write reflection:
- Calle 13’s Latinoamerica music video
- Poem: And yo grandma, where is she at? Embracing Black Puerto-Rican Heritage
- Poem: Ay, Ay, Ay de la Grifa Negra
- Poem: Latino-Americanos: The Children of an Oscuro Pasado

Students work on a self-awareness identity project by talking to their family members and friends about different aspects of identity. Students can use the Child of the Americas Poem and have their family members write their own poem.
Initiation: Discuss with students their beliefs about beauty standards based on race. Watch Afro-Latinos Get PhotoShopped Into Latin American Beauty Standards and have students post about how they relate to “normalized beauty standards.”

Review some of the student reflections and then have them watch/listen to “Afro-Latina” performed by Elizabeth Acevedo at Afro-Latina | Learning for Justice. Discuss: What do you think Elizabeth Acevedo is attempting to do (e.g., educate, create a mood)? What connections are there to history learned so far? What personal connections do they make?

Activity: Dive specifically into a group of Afro-Latinos from Honduras called the Garifuna. Students choose between watching a short documentary or podcast to gather information and complete analysis: Garifuna Activity

Closing: Discuss with students the assumptions and biases that might exist around Afro-Latinos, Afro-Puerto Ricans and “beauty standards,” and how these assumptions affect racial, ethnic and socio-economic identity of Puerto Ricans and Latinos.

Day 1

Initiation: Teacher provides a mini-lesson to engage students in review and discussion regarding U.S. and Latin American relations, policies, and “interventions” that have helped and hindered Latin American economic development. Teacher reviews a summary of the economy of Latin America using the Google

(The first two slides can be reviewed together and students can choose to complete the rest with guided practice or independently.) Students discuss the economy of Latin America and where it falls in the world.

Activity: Students demonstrate understanding of U.S. relations with Latin America and apply learning (hyperlink with rubric to be added) by selecting one of the following activities to work on individually or in small groups:

1. Mapping the Economy - Students choose a Latin American Country and create a timeline of the economic path of the place they chose as it relates to U.S. intervention in Latin America.
2. Latin America in the News - This activity is designed to help the student think about the connection between current events and Latin American history. Students identify a story from Latin America from a “credible” news source. (Students who prefer to read in Spanish can find stories from Spanish-speaking news sources.) Students create a presentation (5 minutes) describing the news story, its importance/significance, and how it demonstrates U.S. and Latin America relations.
3. Analyzing policy - Students analyze U.S. policies and impact on Latin America (article on US intervention).

Day 2

Initiation: Have students share finished products via gallery walk. As a class, the teacher can support students in identifying the patterns and trends that students examined and discovered.

Activity: Have students view and discuss Harvest of the Empire (viewing guide to be added).

Closing: Have students create a tweet, Instagram post, etc. about their learning regarding U.S. and Latin American relations.

Initiation: Ask students to share words that come to mind when they hear the phrase: “The Legacy of U.S. Colonialism.” Ask them to also share what they think it means. This lesson serves as transition of economic influences to autonomy granted to Puerto Rico from Spain.

Introduce students to Decree and the importance of how it provided Cuba and Puerto Rico with autonomy for Puerto Rico’s path to independence from Spain. Have a classroom discussion of the history and the purpose of Real Cedula de Gracia and how it provided Puerto Rico and Cuba with autonomy. Introduce concept of Interest Convergence/mutual benefit as the Decree contained regulations to increase the White population of the islands.

Activity: Have students choose a primary source about the Royal Decree written in Spanish and use Google translate, as needed. Have them read the translated primary source and compare and contrast it to a primary source written in English. Ask students to post their reactions to the content of both sources reflecting on the following questions: How did this change the economic climate in Puerto Rico? What did autonomy look like for families?

Closing: Remind students that there seems to be very limited information on this Decree in English and close with asking them, How does this limited information help or hinder a true understanding of what this Decree meant for Puerto Rico’s independence?

Recommended Learning Activities, including UDL Principles/Scaffolded Supports and Asynchronous and Synchronous Learning Opportunities

Day 1

Initiation: Start by reading quote that pertains to the U.S. occupation of Puerto Rico during the Spanish-American War and ask students to discuss what they think the quote means.

Cuba y Puerto Rico son de un pajaro las dos alas reciben flores o balas sobre un mismo corazón.
(Translation: Cuba and Puerto Rico are the two wings of a bird -- they receive flowers and bullets in the same heart.) - Lola Rodríguez de Tío

(https://ciudadseva.com/texto/cuba-y-puerto-rico-son-de-un-pajaro-las-dos-alas/) This verse was written more than a century ago, at the height of pro-independence fervor sweeping the sister islands of Cuba and Puerto Rico.

Students may not know much about the U.S. occupation, but this is an opportunity to get some background knowledge from the students. Have students discuss, Why did the U.S. invade/occupy/acquire Puerto Rico? Then, provide students with a mini-lesson on the history of the U.S. occupation of the island that gives them an overview of the reasons U.S. occupied Puerto Rico, including a timeline of U.S. colonization in Puerto Rico and ways in which the U.S. “governed” Puerto Rico using its military, noting that Puerto Rico was under military rule at the time of U.S. occupancy.

Activity: Students read excerpts from U.S. Acquires Puerto Rico that explains the circumstances behind taking over Puerto Rico. Have half of the class read the excerpts with the odd numbers and the other half read the even numbers. Then, have students use the following: U.S. takes over Puerto Rico: Activity worksheet to summarize and share their findings with a classmate who read the opposite excerpts.

Closing: Teachers assign different points of view for students to prepare for debate as to whether the U.S. occupied, invaded, and/or acquired the island.

Day 2

Activity: Students debate if U.S. influence on Puerto Rico was negative, positive, or a combination of both.

Closing: As result of debate, students complete Exit Slip identifying their perspective as to whether the U.S. occupied, invaded, and/or acquired Puerto Rico. (Teacher will report out aggregate results at the beginning of the next lesson.)

Day 1

Initiation: Provide a mini-lesson about the different acts and offer students the opportunity to critically analyze how the acts hinder and/or benefit the Puerto Rican community and culture.

Activity: Students complete jigsaw activity in four small groups (Foraker, Jones, 936 Section, Insular Cases) examining each Act for impact on economy and citizenship.

Day 2

Activity: Students independently write an argumentative essay (with appropriate scaffolds) using single or multiple Acts to claim whether U.S. citizenship was earned or given to Puerto Ricans. Students need to be able to evidence the counterclaim of people’s desire for independence vs. citizenship applying notions of disenfranchisement and interest convergence. (need to insert rubric for argumentative essay)

Closing: Ask students to share their new learning regarding the citizenship “rights” given to Puerto Ricans. Students reflect on the following: why were Puerto Ricans given “only certain citizenship rights” and not all of them (e.g., religion)?

Recommended Learning Activities, including UDL Principles/Scaffolded Supports and Asynchronous and Synchronous Learning Opportunities

Day 1

Initiation: Have students make a list about what they know regarding the status of Puerto Rico currently.

Activity: Students research headlines from newspaper archives regarding youth in Puerto Rico in the 1900s. Have students create a presentation with the following prompts:
- How is the media shaping perceptions about young people from that era?
- What parts of the story are being emphasized or under-emphasized
- Would you change how the media reports on youth?

Day 2

Activity: Create small groups of students and have them discuss/debate one or both of the following prompts using evidence from above:
- Is Puerto Rico a commonwealth or a Colony of the United States?
- Are Puerto Ricans considered “second class” citizens by the United States? What does race have to do with it?

Closing: Students complete Exit Slip, Do you think most people who live in the continental United States are aware that Puerto Ricans are U.S. citizens and that the island of Puerto Rico is part of the U.S.? If you answered ‘no’ or aren’t sure, why do you think that is?

Home Links/Reflections to Affirm Identity

Day 3

Activity: Students conduct document analysis using Honorable Sonia Sotomayor writing on the status of Puerto Rico. Students develop point of view of how the island status was affected by recent challenges faced (Puerto Rican debt, bankruptcy status, PROMESA, Hurricane Maria, etc.) responding to the following prompts:

- How does PROMESA help Puerto Rico’s Debt?
- How does PROMESA hinder Puerto Rico’s autonomy?
- Who benefits from PROMESA? If there is a benefit, how does it happen?

Closing: Students write journal reflection of information known/unknown and why considering different socio-political-economical influences.

Day 4

Initiation: Ask students to discuss with one another what happened during Hurricane Maria, exploring known/mainstream and unknown stories.

Activity: Students choose one of the following:

1. Imagine a beneficial relationship between Puerto Rico and the U.S. Have students create a news clip answering the following question: What is the role of the federal government after a disaster?

2. Analyze lyrics of two songs (example of songs are listed in materials) about PROMESA, #RickyRenuncia protests, or any other challenge that the island has faced recently to

Unit 4

FOCUS ON PUERTO RICAN/LATINO HISTORY

Resistance and Defiance
Title of Unit | Unit 4: Resistance and Defiance
---|---
Timeframe | May-Early June (4.5 weeks/ 23 days)
Developed By | Adrian Solis, Vanessa Sosa, Agnes Quinones, Gladys Labas, Nitza Diaz
Revision Date | June 18, 2021

Summary of Unit
Coming from a place of frustration, discord, and suppression, Latinos, time and time again, have resisted the power and control of a group of people, governments, or institutions. Their resistance has always been part of their existence; however, this unit will focus on major times of resistance. Finally, we will look at other forms of resistance focusing on the arts and on the development/existence of underground economies within specific Latin American countries.

In this unit, students will:
- Explore the Latinos’ fight for independence against Spain.
- Explore the nationalist movements against dictatorial/non-democratic leaders in the 20th century.
- Analyze the power structures within the United States that influence oppressing the people and voices of the Latino world.
- Examine how the arts serve as a form of resistance, strength and community building.

Compelling Question: With the diaspora in mind, how has the theme of resilience been illustrated in the past and present history of Latinos’ battle for equity?

Recommended Learning Activities, including UDL Principles/Scaffolded Supports and Asynchronous and Synchronous Learning Opportunities

Day 1

Students brainstorm what they know about the country of Haiti. Teacher refers back to the map from Semester 2 Unit 1 Lesson 1.3 and identifies the country of Haiti and introduces unit.

Activity: Students watch Haitian Revolutions using the Crash Course on Haitian Revolution video EdPuzzle. Students take notes and pay close attention to elements used in video (i.e., humor, facts, quotes, etc.) as this will be helpful for future assignments.

After the video, have a class discussion spotlighting the following key ideas:
- Only country where slave freedom was taken by force.
- Only successful slave revolt in modern times.
- First country in Latin America to gain independence (1791-1804).
- Second to U.S. in the Americas as a whole.
- Influences other LA political revolutions of 18th century.

Evidence of Learning: Have students reimagine the scene in the Haitian Revolution that the image is attempting to portray. Using factual knowledge learned in the duration of this course, write an illustrative description on the moment in time. How are the Haitians remembered through his image? What is the theme of their resistance? How did this revolution threaten the American slave trade?

Closing: Have students discuss ways in which they can bring this new knowledge home to their families. Students can capture their new learning using an Anchor chart entitled: Resistance and Defiance. Students can build the chart throughout the unit. The chart should only contain the most relevant/important information. Thoughts can be expressed in pictures/images, words, etc.

Recommended Learning Activities, including UDL Principles/Scaffolded Supports and Asynchronous and Synchronous Learning Opportunities

Day 1

Students watch movie about Latin American social movements with their families and discuss. Examples:
- Filiberto
- Human Rights in Quisqueya

Home Links/Reflections to Affirm Identity

Students watch movie about Latin American social movements with their families and discuss. Examples:
- Filiberto
- Human Rights in Quisqueya
Initiation: Organize students into small groups to discuss the following: Why did Latin American countries revolt from Spain? Have students capture their ideas in a note catcher or in a Padlet they can refer back to throughout the unit. Have students watch Latin American Revolutions: Crash Course World History #31 and answer the following questions using the Latin American Revolutions worksheet:
- What are the three institutions that exercised control over the populations?
- Who was Sor Juana Inés de la Cruz and what was her impact on Latin America?
- What was the impact of transculturation on Latin America?
- How did Brazil gain independence and do this in a way that there was limited bloodshed? Why did they have slavery until 1888?
- What were Spain’s liberalizing movements? Venezuela’s? Who was Simón de Bolívar and what was his impact?
- Why does John Green consider Latin America the leader of 19th century world history?

Day 2

Activity: In their small groups, students pick a revolution in Latin America and research deeper and include involvement of allies (countries) with other Latin American countries. To assist, students will use a boxing strategy from Classroom Protocols from EL Education to capture their notes/learning. In the outside frame, students write prior knowledge and what they want to learn by this investigation. In the second box, they write about their new learning. In the middle they write a summary of new learning/draw an image that synthesizes the group’s understanding of the topic.

Day 2

Activity: Students read the article on causes of LA revolutions and outline key reasons using Google Doc Outline (written) or Google Drawing Outline (visual)

Day 3

Activity: Students begin by highlighting key facts from the Latin America Crash Course video from Day 1 related to the role of women. Then, students read the article on women’s impact on LA revolutions. LATIN AMERICA: Women in History - More than Just Heroines and choose one heroine to complete Biography Poster to demonstrate the role of women in the fight for independence.

Closing/Evidence of Learning: Students share their poster through gallery walk.

Day 4

- The Price of Sugar
- El coraje del Pueblo/Courage of the People
Initiation: Teacher provides introductory mini-lesson on the Caudillos (Caudillos PPT). Students take notes and reflect on the key ideas. (Scaffolded note-taking frames/Cornell Notes can be provided as needed.)

Activity: In small groups, student explore the effects of independence for the Caudillos. Groups research facts about one of the following and document in Caudillo Jamboard Template:
- Juan Santa Maria: Costa Rica 1831-1865
- Juan Manuel de Rosas: Argentina 1829-1852
- Jose Antonio Paez: Venezuela 1830-1850
- Antonio Lopez de Santa Anna: México 1821-1855
- Rafael Carrera: Guatemala 1837-1865

Closing: Discuss with students how Latin American revolutions for independence compared with the U.S.

Day 5

Performance Task: Students pair up, select countries to research, and create their own Crash Course video (max 5 min). The video should include the involvement of allies (countries) with other Latin American countries Crash Course Project.

Recommended Learning Activities, including UDL Principles/Scaffolded Supports and Asynchronous and Synchronous Learning Opportunities

Day 1

Initiation Students complete an Entrance Ticket in response to a Che Guevara quote such as:
- “Let the world change you and you can change the world”
- “Be realistic, demand the impossible”
- “Silence is argument carried out by other means”

Teacher provides mini-lesson about Latin American Revolutions by using examples from different Latin American Countries for background.

Day 2

Activity: Latin American Revolution Activity Students watch various clips from The Motorcycle Diaries and identify root causes for many revolutions in Latin America during the 20th century using table to document analysis.

Day 3

Activity: Students research and write/depict the lives of several women who participated in the different nationalist movements answering: What role did the women play within their country’s revolution? What was important about their role? How did their participation help fuel these revolutions?

Day 4

Activity: Teacher assigns students the Guatemala Case Study (PPT) and Guatemala Case Study Activity sheet. Teacher walks students through the events and details of the Guatemala Revolution as students work through guiding questions. Teacher then shows students the primary source interview video that makes a direct connection to the teacher’s life. Throughout presentation and video, students use the activity sheet to engage in inquiry and discussion.

Closing: Students use exit ticket to convey how the case study of the Guatemalan Revolution demonstrates resistance and defiance.

Students research and investigate different national Puerto Rican Movements. In pairs, students pick one group and do quick research regarding main arguments/tactics for independence. Students engage in another boxing strategy to capture their notes on the learning. In the outside frame, students write prior knowledge and what they want to learn by this investigation. In the second box, they write about their new learning. In the middle they write a summary of new learning or draw an image that synthesizes the group’s understanding of the topic and post summaries of their new learning.

Groups:
- Boricua Popular Army
- Cadets of the Republic
- Fuerzas Armadas de Liberación Nacional Puertorriqueña
- Hostosian National Independence Movement
- Independence Association of Puerto Rico
- Liberal Party of Puerto Rico
- Puerto Rican Independence Party
- Puerto Rican Nationalist Party
- Revolutionary Committee of Puerto Rico Socialist Front
- Union Party of Puerto Rico
Students read Big Brother in Puerto Rico: How the FBI Knew Everything About You (latinorebels.com) Then, students engage in a Four Corners Protocol in which the teacher reads a statement, students think about their answer, and students respond by moving to a corner of the room that best corresponds to their choice and discuss. Each corner is marked by a chart (strongly agree, agree, disagree, strongly disagree). Teachers may use statements such as:

- It is ethical for corporations and the government to observe us and monitor our information.
- The FBI should be able to collect information without a warrant issued by a judge.
- If you haven't done anything wrong, you have nothing to worry about the FBI collecting information on you.
- The FBI must collect public and private information on people.
- It was fine that Las Carpetas were used to arrest people and impact reputations, careers, and families.
- Public Law 53 (Gag Law, Ley de la Mordaza) was wrong because it was a felony to say a word, sing a song, own a Puerto Rican flag, or whistle a tune about independence.
- It is not an intrusion when the government collects information on individuals.
- There would be negative consequences if the FBI did not collect information on people.
- The FBI must collect information as long as the information that is gathered is not causing harm to the individual.

Day 1

Initiation: Using background information on Pedro Albizu Campos, invite students to investigate other figures from Latin America (some figures listed above). Have students generate questions that they would like to answer about these heroes and sheroes.

Activity: After students generate questions about one of the figures above, have each student choose one person, and find information and a biography by doing research. Have students use a graphic organizer to organize their learning. Students write a monologue about the person they chose and read the monologue to the class or record ahead of time and share. Students share monologues/recordings.

Alternate Activity: Pedro Albizu Campos - War Against All Puerto Ricans: Inside the U.S. Crackdown on Pedro Albizu Campos & Nationalist Party - YouTube (26:11). Ask students to answer and discuss the following questions with each other: Who was Pedro Albizu Campos? Why is he so important not only for Puerto Ricans, but for All of the United States? In the video when Nelson Denis said, “What happens in Puerto Rico never happened at all?”, what does he mean?

Closing: Students discuss and reflect what surprised and inspired them about “these Movers and Shakers.”

Closing: Students use exit ticket to describe parallels between the Young Lords’ and the Black Panthers’ organizational influence and impact.

Day 2

Initiation: Teacher begins class by showing a preview of news clip about the heist: Puerto Rican nationalist gets 5 years for ’83 Wells Fargo heist.

Activity: Students review two website sources that give background information on the bank robbery. Then, students pair up and create a movie pitch for the robbery.

Closing: Watch Unsolved Mysteries segment on robbery: Watch Unsolved Mysteries: Original Robert Stack Episodes | Prime Video (min 26:33-32:50)

Day 3 and 4

Activity: In small groups, students choose a group or a person to research from FBI Records: The Vault — Puerto Rican Groups or the FBI Government website. Students research primary sources and create a presentation about what they learned about the contributions of group or person to society at the time.

Home Links/Reflections to Affirm Identity

Take a virtual trip to see the Icons of National Identity - Instituto de Cultura Puertorriqueña with a family member/friend

With identity in mind, how have Puerto Rican and Latino/a artists revolutionized other cultures and galvanized social justice movements?
- Are there some aspects of the national identity pieces that you can connect or relate to in your own heritages?
- Are there some aspects of the national identity of Puerto Ricans that differ from your identities that you have found appreciation for?
Day 5

Initiation: Students prepare questions they’d like to have answered from a member of Puerto Rican Resistance Group, if they could.

Activity: Students watch a film, lecture, community conversation, or interview (e.g., Interview with David Rivera Sr., National Field Marshal of Young Lords, February 2021) from the perspective of a member of a Puerto Rican Resistance group (e.g., Young Lords, FALN, Macheteros, etc.) or coordinate an in-person or virtual interview with class.

Closing: Students reflect on lived experience shared and how contributed to own independence and/or identity.

Duration: 2 Days

Big Ideas/Topics to be Addressed, including Key Concepts and Terms

- Timeline of the History of the Latino Civil Rights Movement
- Political and Social Conflicts
- Contributions of Latinos during the African-American Civil Rights Movement

Civil Rights Movements Warriors:

- Cesar Chavez
- Dolores Huerta
- Herman Badillo
- Rita Moreno

Recommended Learning Activities, including UDL Principles/Scaffolded Supports and Asynchronous and Synchronous Learning Opportunities

Day 1

Initiation: Students name a Latino person who was part of the Civil Rights Movements in the U.S. Teachers provide mini lecture on the History of Latino Civil Rights in the U.S., focusing on the contributions Latinos made (consider the case of Mendez vs. Westminster or the LA Walkout as examples).

Activity: Students analyze the Latino Civil Rights Timeline and organize into groups by the following years:

- 1900-1919
- 1920-1939
- 1940-1959
- 1960-1979
- 1980-2006

Groups choose 8 of the most impactful events and/or people from the time period to report out on. Using the Internet, students locate primary sources such as eyewitness accounts, letters, diaries, artifacts, photos, and magazine and/or newspaper articles of that period. Students should include date, summary of event, primary source, and theme each event relates to (e.g., voting rights, labor rights, education, etc.).

Home Links/Reflections to Affirm Identity

With a family member or friend, students watch "Taking Back the Schools" and HBO film "Walkout" for more information on this campaign and reflect on how the African American Civil Rights movement helped or fueled the Mexican American students.
Alternate Activity: Students “play a card game” as detailed in Exploring the History of Latino Civil Rights | Learning for Justice. In this game, students use the Latino Civil Rights Timeline, 1903 to 2006 | Learning for Justice to create illustrations for one event from each decade represented. Teacher gathers the student drawings, and distributes to different groups in non-chronological sequence. Referencing the timeline, students match the illustrations with the events depicted and organize in chronological sequence. Students popcorn-out the story portrayed by the illustrations, illuminating ways the events build on one another.

Closing: Students use exit ticket to remark on most impactful event in their opinion and explain why.

Day 2

Initiation: Mini lecture and discussion of Zoot Suits Riots using video How Anti-Mexican Racism in L.A. Caused the Zoot Suit Riots as resource.

Activity: Students read two documents and complete response to What Caused the Zoot Suit Riots? or follow lesson from Zoot Suit Riots | Stanford History Education Group.

Alternate Initiation/Activity (based on student interest): Students reflect back to Semester 1, Unit 5, Lesson 5.4. In this lesson, students examined Brown v Board of Education. In home groups of six, students jigsaw read Before Brown vs. Board of Education, there was Mendez vs. Westminster. Each student silently reads a paragraph, annotating, and summarizing information. Then, all students reading paragraph one get together to share highlights, discuss questions they have, and discuss what they will share when they return to their “home” groups. Each student will get 1-2 minutes to share key points of what paragraph read. Then, as a group students write/depict a summary of Mendez vs. Westminster case.

Closing: Students Round Robin one thing they did not know about the Latino Civil Rights movement in the U.S. before this lesson.

Latino and Black Americans are allies in the fight for racial justice Students read the article and reflect and react to the following prompt: How have Black and Latino Americans worked collectively to achieve the common goal of civil rights?

Students create an artistic piece (song, spoken word, poem, drawing, painting) about Latino Civil Rights leaders listed above.
Lesson 4.4-2 The Use of Arts for Transforming Societies and Marking the Latino Presence in the U.S.

Big Ideas/Topics to be Addressed, including Key Concepts and Terms

- Past and present of Arts as a form of protest in the Latino community
- Latinos use different types of art to hold leaders responsible for their actions
- History of how different types of art came to be the medium by which Latinos protest peacefully
- Latino artists who use their art as a form of protest in the U.S. and in Latin America

Recommended Learning Activities, including UDL Principles/Scaffolded Supports and Asynchronous and Synchronous Learning Opportunities

Day 1

Initiation: Students review artistic representation of Rise Up Connecticut Mural Project in Hartford.

Activity: Students explore LatinXAmerican | Exhibitions | DePaul Art Museum | DePaul University, Chicago in pairs or as a class giving their opinion and ideas on all the pieces of art in the exhibit. The Teacher shares the artists’ perspectives using segments of the video explaining exhibit. Students write about their favorite piece of art using Latino Protest Art Worksheet explaining how it relates to the theme of resistance and defiance.

Closing: Provide students with an image by a Latino/a artist that represents protest art. Engage class in discussion regarding:
- What message is the artist trying to convey to what audience?
- What symbols were used?
- What effect did image have on the community?
- How can a country’s history, government, cultural beliefs, values affect the expression and influence of protest art?

Performance Task: Students produce their own piece of art with the purpose of bringing about political or social change. Students can draw from their beliefs, personal experiences, current events, or other sources to inspire their creations. Use the art created by the students to create a gallery for students to view and react to the work of their peers at a later date.

Day 1

Initiation: Have students talk about the music they are currently listening to, the type of music that inspires them, names of bands and singers they gravitate to, and why.

Provide students with an understanding of what and why music is used as a form of resistance using a song from The soundtrack of Puerto Rico’s protests | The World from PRX and a modern song from a Puerto Rican artist, such as Afilando Los Cuchillos. Ask students what lyrics resonate with them the most, how the songs promote them to think and feel, and what messages the artist is trying to convey.

Activity: Follow teaching guide for Plena is Work, Plena is Song Documentary | Centro de Estudios Puertorriqueños

Alternate Activity: Students explore the website on Latino protest music Pa’lante: 11 Songs of Protest & Resistance by Latino Artists and pick one to complete analysis using Song Analysis worksheet.

Closing: Students share with a partner their reflection about the song chosen from the playlist.

Home Links/Reflections to Affirm Identity

Students share with family song chosen from playlist and song analysis worksheet and ask family member what song they would choose and why.

Have students show Why Puerto Rican Bomba Music Is Resistance about Latinos using music to protest peacefully in the U.S. Students then ask their families to react and offer opinion.

Unit 5

FOCUS ON PUERTO RICAN/LATINO HISTORY

Where are we now?
Summary of Unit

Between the years of 1820 and 2020, more than 80 million people migrated to the U.S. The history of immigration and migration is bigger than just the narrative that teaches about European immigration. Puerto Ricans and Latinos have migrated to the U.S. since the 1800s, and some Latino groups were already here before Europeans. This unit offers students an opportunity to learn and explore the contributions of Puerto Ricans and Latinos to the U.S. and the state of Connecticut.

In this unit, students will:

- Analyze reasons that individuals from Puerto Rico and other Latin Americans migrated to Connecticut.
- Explore the accomplishments and contributions of these individuals and their descendants to Connecticut history and culture.
- Understand and examine the misconceptions and negative beliefs that have been normalized and excluded the contributions of Puerto Rican and Latino people.

Compelling Question: What impact have Puerto Ricans and Latinos had on Connecticut, and what additional impact might they have in the future?

Recommended Learning Activities, including UDL Principles/Scaffolded Supports and Asynchronous and Synchronous Learning Opportunities

Day 1

Initiation: Introduce key topics of unit to spark students’ interest: migrations from Puerto Rico and Latin American countries to CT, Borinqueneers and Latinos in the military, accomplishments and contributions of Latinos (inventors, musicians, educators, athletes, scientists, etc.), beauty of being Latino: A Celebration. Then, review Anchor Charts started in Semester 2 Unit 1 and add comments, thoughts, and statements about new learning.

Performance Task: Students work in pairs to prepare for interview of someone with Latino background using Latino Experience Interview worksheet to be conducted by end of unit.

Day 2

Initiation: Ask students to write down their associations when they hear the word “Puerto Rican” and invite them to share their thoughts and perspectives (the perspectives could be facts and myths).

Activity: Provide students with data and census information with demographics and contributions of Puerto Ricans in the U.S. and also highlight “myths” that have been created and normalized in everyday life. Discuss with students the misconceptions that they might have regarding Puerto Ricans (Examples: How Hispanics Contribute to the U.S. Economy or Puerto Ricans in Connecticut State, 2019 | Centro de Estudios Puertorriqueños).

Closing: As a class, analyze the chart and Puerto Ricans in Connecticut data sheet Puerto Ricans in Connecticut State, 2019. After students analyze the infographic, ask them to reflect on things that surprised them about the contributions of Puerto Ricans to Connecticut.

Home Links/Reflections to Affirm Identity

Recommended Learning Activities, including UDL Principles/Scaffolded Supports and Asynchronous and Synchronous Learning Opportunities

Day 1 Initiation Ask students to “brainstorm” what they know about the various Latino groups that immigrated to the U.S. and Connecticut or invite a guest speaker, not born in the U.S., who serves as a local Puerto Rican leader to share lived experiences with class.

Activity: Students receive a worksheet on the Numbers: Latinos in Connecticut. Students begin by identifying reasons why Latinos might move to Connecticut: e.g., jobs (factories, tobacco, service jobs, etc.), family, military, schooling, etc. Then, students review the website The 10 Connecticut Cities With The Largest Latino Population For 2021. If time permits, go back to the Puerto Ricans in Connecticut data sheet Puerto Ricans in Connecticut State, 2019 to review before going to the next part of the activity.

After class discussion, students divide into groups of 3 and analyze the policy blueprint Hispanic Federation: Latino in Connecticut: A Call to Action and create a policy proposal to help address an issue of importance to the Latino community within their school or city/town.

Alternate Activity: Using U.S. Census data, newspaper clips, archival data from CT Humanities or local historical societies, libraries, University libraries, Center for Puerto Rican Studies and/or The Mauricio Gaston Institute for Latino Community, students compare and contrast Latino immigration rates and other demographic data that illustrate the growth of Latinos in the U.S. and in Connecticut. Students create graphs that highlight the following:

- Region and country or area of birth.
- Region and country of the Foreign Born population, with geographic detail for 2000 and later.
- Race and Hispanic origin by population and by nativity.
- Race and Hispanic origin of Foreign Born population. Have students do the same data points but only for the state of Connecticut.

Home Links/Reflections to Affirm Identity

Students watch movie or listen to Carnaval Del Barrio - In The Heights Motion Picture Soundtrack (Official Audio) and discuss how Latino culture contributed to New York’s diverse culture. How does movie represent what it means to be Latino/a?
Closing: Have students share one sentence about what surprised them regarding the immigration of other Latinos groups to Connecticut.

Recommended Learning Activities, including UDL Principles/Scaffolded Supports and Asynchronous and Synchronous Learning Opportunities

Day 1

Initiation: Start with a Human Line-Up or Barometer Activity (Taking Barometer Online) and ask students whether they strongly agree, are neutral, or strongly disagree with the following statements (Teaching Strategy: Barometer: Taking a Stand on Controversial Issues | Facing History) and discuss:

1. Immigrants have helped make the United States a better, stronger nation.
2. New immigrants continue to make the United States a better nation.
3. Undocumented immigrants living in the United States should be allowed to live, work and raise families here.
4. Undocumented immigrants should only be deported if they commit serious crimes. They don’t deserve a second chance.
5. Immigrants who enter or stay in the United States without the appropriate legal documents are breaking the rules. They are not following the legal process or “not waiting in line,” the way the law requires.
6. Children who were brought to the U.S. without legal documents by their parents should receive permanent residency and/or U.S. citizenship.

Activity: Students watch What 'Dreamers' Gained From DACA. While they are watching, have them write down their reactions/point of view, questions/wonders they have, and present innovative solutions to “immigration” challenges to discuss as class.

Day 2

Activity: In small groups, students examine 1-2 myths from 10 Myths About Immigration. Students then present their myths to the class, and provide evidence for their agreement or disagreement.

Closing: Students use exit ticket to reflect on immigration: Is it worth it? Who benefits? Why different experiences for different groups?

Recommended Learning Activities, including UDL Principles/Scaffolded Supports and Asynchronous and Synchronous Learning Opportunities

Day 1

Initiation: Ask students what they know about the historical premise of “The Melting Pot.” Students reflect on what they learned in the course and how to move away from this concept to better fit current ideas and growing diversity in the U.S. and re-conceptualize to be more strengths-based, collective, community-oriented, and representative of “La Familia” (show Secretary of Education Miguel Cardona’s acceptance speech when nominated).

Activity: Students engage in Four Corner activity (educator, doctor, lawyer, legislator) to discuss what they learned throughout the course to make recommendations for the future.

- What does the future look like for Puerto Rican and Latino people in terms of identity, culture, and consciousness?
- How will the U.S. look like in the future, moving away from assimilation, acculturation, and normed culture?

Closing: Students complete Post-Post Assessment.

Home Links/Reflections to Affirm Identity

Students discuss with their parent/s or guardian/s what they re-imagined regarding African American, Black, Puerto Rican and Latino culture to be in 2050.
Day 2

End of Semester/Course Project: Students finalize their Radical Imaginations Through the Arts and Be The Change Projects, spotlighting their experience with the course and its impact on identity development. Projects should showcase contributions of African American/Black and Puerto Rican/Latino people individually and collectively, and how they have shaped students’ life personally and why. Projects should be exhibited in a way that can be shared with the full school community.

Semester 1: Unit 1 At-A-Glance: Where We Come From: Introduction to African Origins and Contributions of Ancient African Empires to World Civilizations and the African Diaspora

In this unit, students will:

- Examine the impact of various aspects of African culture on world civilizations in the past and present.
- Analyze the factors that have contributed to racialized global conflict and change in the modern world; and
- Develop a positive and accurate identity, including an awareness of and comfort with one's membership in multiple groups in society.

Compelling Questions: What impact did the people of Ancient Africa have on early and modern civilizations, and why has this impact been largely ignored through much of history? How has the concept of race been socially constructed over time?

<td>Course Introduction: Who are We?</td>
<td>In this lesson, students create a safe space for learning and examine who they are as individuals. Students begin their Identity Development Journals. Students complete an exit ticket sharing supports they will need as a learner in this course. (Journal Entry: What factors shape my identity? What parts of identity do I choose for myself? What parts of my identity are developed for me?)</td>

<td>African Origins</td>
<td>In this lesson, students discuss the implications of the “Lucy” fossils discovered in Ethiopia. In small groups, students plan their claim/counterclaim of how humanity began using evidence from primary and secondary sources (e.g., maps, articles) and present claim and counterclaims to class.</td>

<td>African Empires to the Demise of Songhai</td>
<td>In this lesson, students explore various African Empires. Students use an exit ticket to answer questions pertaining to the wealth of a civilization, the role of women in governing empire, and leadership styles. Students complete an exit ticket reflecting on their learning.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1.3</td>
<td>1</td>
<td>The Moors</td>
<td>In this lesson, students examine why the Moors are important to the study of African American history. Students use an exit ticket to answer how the identities of the Moors in Africa are relevant to African Americans and Black people today.</td>
</tr>

<td>The Social Construction of Race and Transatlantic Slave Trade</td>
<td>In this lesson, students discuss the social construct of race and the understanding of race in context of the history of slavery in America and globally. Students complete a reflection of the impact of race on their lives and Early American culture. In small groups, students report on an individual or topic in format of choice. (Journal Entry: What have I learned that has impacted my thinking on race?)</td>

This unit concludes with an End-of-Unit Performance Task in which students collectively draw from their research to create and present a representation addressing the compelling question of the impact of the people of Ancient Africa on the development of humanity and civilization (e.g., presentation, descriptive PowerPoint, visual depiction such as poster or concept map or matrix, etc.).

In this unit, students will:
- Analyze how Africans, African Americans, and their descendants have struggled to gain freedom, equality, and social justice.
- Explore the ways in which slavery was embedded in legislation.
- Investigate how multiple racial and cultural perspectives influence the interpretation of slavery.

Compelling Question: How were some Africans from the global diaspora able to assert their agency to resist slavery; why were other Africans unable to do this?

Pre-Assessment: Before beginning this unit, students complete a poll to survey understanding of local and global slavery that existed, the prevalence of slavery in Connecticut and the Caribbean, and the importance of slavery to the U.S. and local economies.

<td>Agency and Resistance: Haiti and Fort Mose</td>
<td>In this lesson, students explore acts of agency depicted in Fort Mose and the Haitian Revolution and Independence. They will identify examples of agency used by Francisco Menendez, Toussaint L’Ouverture, and other people who experienced forced migration, as part of the beginning movement for freedom, justice, and change. They will analyze maps for global perspective. How were some Africans from the global diaspora able to assert their agency to resist slavery; why were other Africans unable to do this? Students apply the themes of agency and resistance to Fort Mose and Haiti. Students provide a short essay response to explain the impact of Fort Mose and the Haitian revolution in the Americas, especially among blacks? (Journal Entry: How has the information I learned in this lesson impacted me?)</td>

<td>Understanding Slavery as an Institution in Connecticut: Laws and Census Data</td>
<td>In this lesson, students explore slavery in Connecticut through the examination of: personal narrative of Nero Hawley, Connecticut laws, and Connecticut data. Students complete an exit ticket summarizing three new facts learned about Nero Hawley as they related to Themes of Slavery and/or migration. As a compilation of new knowledge, at the end of this unit students write an explanation of the changes in societal structures during this era and the impact on life in Connecticut communities. (Journal Entry: Write about the place you grew up. How has that experience shaped your life?)</td>

This unit concludes with an End-of-Unit Performance Task in which students write a fictional interview of an Africa/African descendant (living in the time period explored) explaining how he/she asserted their agency and resistance to spark revolutionary change, preserve their own humanity, and resist slavery.
In this unit, students will:
- Examine how Africans and African descendants worked individually and collectively to spark revolutionary change to their existence;
- Explore various perspectives of enslavement from free and enslaved Africans; and
- Analyze the impact of the cotton economy on the development of the domestic slave trade.

Compelling Question: When is resistance and/or revolution justified/glorified/condemned? How effective were the actions of abolitionists and the slave rebellions of this period? Are individual contributions or collective efforts more effective in actualizing social change?

Pre-Assessment: In what ways have Africans, African Americans, and African descendants persisted past adversity to preserve their own humanity and contribute to the development of American Culture and Innovation? (KWL)

Students can represent learning in an alternative medium of choice (video, podcast, etc.).
Semester 1: Unit 4 At-A-Glance: Long, Long History for Equality

In this unit, students will:
- Examine how Africans and African descendants worked individually and collectively to spark revolutionary change to their existence.
- Explore the Reconstruction politics through literature and other accounts from primary documents and impact on Whites and Blacks.

Compelling Question: How was Reconstruction a success or failure?

Pre-Assessment Poll or KWL: How did Reconstruction impact Africans, African Americans, and Blacks?

Students may also represent learning using a medium of choice (drawing sketch, infographic, poem, etc.)
Semester 1: Unit 5 At-A-Glance: Black Movement for Equality

In this unit, students will:

- Identify tactics, mission, and accomplishments of major groups involved in the movement for equality
- Investigate the causes, consequences, and historical context of key events in this time period
- Evaluate how individuals, groups, and institutions in the United States have both promoted and hindered people’s struggle for freedom, equality, and social justice;
- Analyze the role of the federal government in supporting and inhibiting various 20th century civil rights movements;
- Analyze the role of women of color in the women’s rights movement.

Compelling Question: How successful have Black Americans’ movements for equality been in transforming the dreams, status, and rights of Black Americans in the United States?

Pre-Assessment: Student Identity: Imagine you are a student during the time period. Describe your school day in a one-page journal entry.

In this unit, students will examine African American history from the political, economic, and cultural impact of Black Power to Black Lives Matter. During this era, African Americans used the vote to demand reform, created organizations such as the Black Panther Party to address police brutality, and created independent social programs. Since 1965, African Americans have made major progress, such as an increase of college graduates and decreasing the poverty rate; however, institutional racism continues to undermine the progress of African Americans and African and Black Caribbean immigrants as well as an expanding Black middle class.

In this unit, students will:

- Examine the impact of class and gender on how the Black community is shaped by a variety of identities, communities, and perspectives.
- Analyze historical, contemporary, and emerging means of changing societies, promoting the common good, and protecting rights.
- Reimagine new possibilities and more just futures for our country and our world drawn from the legacy of African American/Black experiences, intellectual thought, and culture.

Compelling Questions: What are the greatest human rights issues facing America today and in the future? What does radically reimagining new possibilities and more just futures look and sound like now?

Pre-Assessment: Poll students’ knowledge of political and cultural accomplishments during this time.

Semester 2: Unit 1-At-A-Glance: Early Beginnings

In this unit, students will:

- Explore Latinos’ and Puerto Ricans’ identity;
- Examine the collective and individual identities of Latinos and Puerto Ricans and demonstrate understanding of how this influences the perception and realities of Latino and Puerto Rican;
- Explore Latinos’ understanding of race;
- Understand how Latinos “show up in the color line that created a Black and White bin”;
- Examine Puerto Rican Migration; and
- Learn about the strengths and contributions of the African diaspora in Latin America and in the Caribbean

Compelling Questions: How has Latino and Puerto Rican identity evolved over time? Is there a single “Latino identity”? Is there a Latino “race”?

Pre-Assessment: Students engage in a gallery walk to gauge information on definition of culture, Latino/Puerto Rican identity, and migration of Latinos/Puerto Ricans.

This unit concludes with an End-of Unit Performance Task in which students create an “I Am From” poem about their background, family, home, life, and traditions.
Semester 2: Unit 2-At-A-Glance: Blood and Resilience

In this unit, students will:

- Explore different perspectives on how the Natives were treated by the Europeans and the voices like Bartolomeo de las Casas, who left a single perspective of this historical encounter behind.
- Explore various forms of anti-Latino treatment such as scientific experiments in Puerto Rico and Guatemala, and language suppression.
- Become more aware of contributions of Latino people to American history in spite of oppression.

Compelling Questions: How has the persisting narrative of the voyages of Columbus held long and short-term consequences for the formation and evolution of the identity of Puerto Ricans and Latinos?

Pre-Assessment: Teachers will facilitate review of prior knowledge using multiple True/False statements via Kahoot or Human Line-Up (Note: these are examples. Teacher can use any other APP.)

Semester 2: Unit 3-At-A-Glance: Sweat

In this unit, students will:

- Explore how colonialism impacted the development of Latin America societies during a period of social, economic "transformation."
- Examine and interpret how Latin Americans and Puerto Ricans constructed and interpreted racial, ethnic, class, and gender identities as a result of historic and economic experiences of enslaved Africans in Latin America and in Puerto Rico.
- Investigate the ways in which United States relations with Puerto Rico and Latin America help or hinder social and economic growth.
- Examine specific role of Indigenous, Spaniards, and Africans in the formation of the Puerto Rican Nation.
- Evaluate how severe economic policies impact the economic growth of Puerto Rican and Latin America currently.

Compelling Question: How did power and hierarchy come together to create the social and economic structures of Puerto Rico and Latin America?

Pre-Assessment: KWL about students’ current understanding of colonialism, United States’ relations with Puerto Rico, and Latin America help or hinder social and economic growth.

<td>3.1-1</td>
<td>3</td>
<td>The arrival of the “Conquistadores” (transition to identity) and the Legacy of Colonialism (1400s)</td>
<td>In this lesson, students examine the history of colonization from Spain and from the United States impacted the social and economic development of Puerto Rico and Latin America, while also demonstrating the perseverance, optimism and fortitude of Puerto Ricans and other Latinos. Students end with a discussion and create a post (different formats can be used) on their understanding of how issues with inequality and desire for freedom influence culture and/or new cultural patterns in different countries of Latin America and in Puerto Rico.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3.1-2</td>
<td>2</td>
<td>Bringing the New Labor Force</td>
<td>In this lesson, students research the system of labor that existed among Indigenous, enslaved Africans, and “free people” and the impact on Latin America and the Caribbean. Students complete a Venn diagram comparing/contrasting Slavery in North American and Central/South America and analyze primary source photographs and paintings. (Journal Entry: Why do you think obviously incorrect race and/or gender stereotypes, like that all girls like pink, remain in society?)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3.1-3</td>
<td>2</td>
<td>Race in Latin America: Caste or Social Hierarchy?</td>
<td>In this lesson, students gain an understanding of the racial or social caste of Latin America as a way to enforce slavery and a racial hierarchy among different groups in Latin America. Students compare and contrast the Spanish caste system with the American racial caste system, answering how Latinos fit in this racial caste system of the United States.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3.1-4</td>
<td>2</td>
<td>Evolution of Identities: Indigenous, Africans and the rest of the people who wanted to be part of this evolution</td>
<td>In this lesson, students examine and demonstrate an understanding on the evolution of multiple social and ethnic identities that evolved in Puerto Rican and in Latin America. Students also explore the history of Afro-Latinos in Puerto Rico and in Latin America.</td>

<td>The Uneasy Neighbors: United States and Latin America relations</td>
<td>In this lesson, students examine and analyze U.S. and Latin American relations, policies and interventions that have helped or hindered economic development.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3.3-1</td>
<td>1</td>
<td>Royal Decree of Graces of 1815 (Real Cedula de Gracia): Why is this important?</td>
<td>In this lesson, students learn the impact that Cedula de Gracia had in the economic development and growth of Puerto Rico. Students reflect on the following questions: How did this change the economic climate in Puerto Rico? What did autonomy look like for families?</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3.3-2</td>
<td>2</td>
<td>U.S. Occupation of the Island</td>
<td>In this lesson, students learn about the history of U.S. colonization of Puerto Ricans and determine if the U.S. influence on Puerto Rico has been negative, positive, or a combination of both. Students debate as to whether the U.S. occupied, invaded, and/or acquired the island.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3.3-3</td>
<td>2</td>
<td>All of these Acts: Jones Act, the Foraker Act: Who benefits?</td>
<td>In this lesson, students learn whether the acts only benefited the United States or not. Students research and complete an argumentative essay or create graphic memoir claiming whether U.S. citizenship was earned or given to Puerto Ricans.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3.3-4</td>
<td>2</td>
<td>The Paradox of Puerto Rico: Nation? Estado Libre Asociado (Associated Free State)? Colony? And Its Relationship to the Island's Social and Economic Policies</td>
<td>In this lesson, students research the past, present, and future of Puerto Rico in relation to it being a territory. Students reflect and communicate their thoughts on Puerto Rico as a state or as an independent nation and on Puerto Ricans being considered “second class” citizens.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3.3-5</td>
<td>4</td>
<td>The Role of the U.S. as a Neighbor/Colonizer: The Economic Impact of Operation Bootstrap, PROMESA, Hurricane Maria, and the Earthquake</td>
<td>In this lesson, students revisit the perpetuation of SWEAT and economic influences on Puerto Rican community and culture. Students create and discuss a social-political-economic timeline of how the economic crisis evolved that demonstrates the lived experiences of Puerto Ricans (Operation Bootstrap, PROMESA, Hurricane Maria, etc.). Students then engage in a close read of Sonia Sotomayor’s Supreme Court decision regarding bankruptcy status.</td>

This unit concludes with an End-of Unit Performance Task with the Status of Puerto Rico Project.
Semester 2: Unit 4 At-A-Glance: Resistance and Defiance

In this unit, students will:

- Explore the Latinos’ fight for independence against Spain
- Explore the nationalist movements against dictatorial/non-democratic leaders in the 20th century
- Analyze the power structures within the United States that influence oppressing the people and voices of the Latino world
- Examine the arts as a form of resistance, strength, and community

Compelling question: With the diaspora in mind, how has the theme of resilience been illustrated in the past and present history of Latinos’ battle for equity?

Pre-Assessment: Students popcorn-out what they already know about Latin American revolutions.

This unit concludes with an End-of Unit Performance Task in which students collectively select countries to research, and create their own Crash Course video (max 5 min). The video should include the involvement of allies (countries) with other Latin American countries. Options also for an Art Piece representing present-day equity issue.
Semester 2: Unit 5-At-A-Glance: Where are we now?

In this unit, students will:

- Analyze reasons that individuals from Puerto Rico and other Latin Americans migrated to Connecticut.
- Explore the accomplishments and contributions of these individuals and their descendants to Connecticut history and culture.
- Understand and examine the misconceptions and negative beliefs that have been normalized and excluded the contributions of Latinos and Puerto Ricans.

Compelling question: What impact have Puerto Ricans and Latinos had on Connecticut, and what impact might they (and you) have on the future?

Pre-Assessment: Students re-engage with the charts created in Semester Two, Lesson 1.0 and add to the charts using Gallery Walk protocol.
