Join us to be a part of this dynamic student summit where your voice and agency matters. This day includes active, experiential learning, where we'll explore the significance of "browndaries" and the intersection of our multiple identities in the world today. Through the lens of resistance and resilience, participants will continue to unearth their own identity and engage in sessions that propel us toward personal success, happiness, and meaningful service to our communities.

During this conference, students and teachers will:
- come together to celebrate the enduring power and legacy of Black and Latino History, shaping a brighter future for generations to come;
- share personal insights and growth derived from the African American/Black and Puerto Rican/Latino High School Course; and
- embark on a journey of self-discovery, uncovering ways in which students can actively engage in Breaking the Boxes by Revealing Our "Browndaries" of race, ethnicity, and language -  becoming architects of their own destiny.

For questions regarding content, please contact Nitza M. Diaz, 860-632-1485, ext 394 or diaz@ctserc.org
